Soviet Minister Proposes Drastic Arms Reductions

HOOVER PLAN SUBJECT OF HOT DEBATE

Litvinoff Insists Figure Suggested By U. S. Be Placed in Resolution

AMENDMENTS BEATEN

World Conference Witnesses Strange Spectacle at Meeting in Geneva

GENEVA, July 21.—(UP)—The world arms conference witnessed the strange spectacle of the Soviet foreign minister being "more American than the Americans" today.

Maxim Litvinoff, opening debate on the final resolution which represents the meager achievement of the conference to date, insisted that President Hoover's proposed cut of one-third in all armaments be inserted in the resolution before the Soviet accepted it, whereas the United States delegates stood for acceptance of the resolution without such figures.

Litvinoff, speaking English with the accent of New York's East Side, attacked the resolution as meaningless and without figures. He proposed first, an amendment to the preamble to call for a reduction of all armaments by one-third, with the exception of small countries possessing armies of not more than 30,000 men, or a total naval tonnage of 100,000, or countries disarmed by international agreement, (such as Germany).

Litvinoff proceeded to propose further amendments prohibiting all aerial bombardment, abolition of land mobile guns to 100 millimeters (approximately four inches), abolition of all tanks and ratification of the 1925 Geneva protocol prohibiting gas and germ warfare.

He asked deletion of the naval paragraph and substitution of a recommendation of the steering committee providing measures for applying the one-third reduction to naval forces.

The Litvinoff amendments were defeated, 30 votes to five with 13 abstentions. The United States voted against them.

RICH WIDOW SLAIN BY HEAD GARDENER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—(UP)—Assaulted murder by her head gardener who then committed suicide, the body of Mrs. Alice O. Spencer, 45, widow of Franklin M. Spencer, capitalist, was found in the servants' quarters of her Menlo Park estate today.

Shortly after her body was found in the living room of John Viano, her head gardener for eight years, Viano was discovered in the garage. A pistol lay beneath his body, and he apparently had committed suicide.

Police declared Viano killed the wealthy woman after a quarrel over his work, but investigators were seeking a more significant motive.

DRIVE TO END DEPRESSION TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Campaign to Be in Force Four Weeks After Relief Bill Signed

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(UP)—The Government's mighty drive to break the depression should be in full swing within four weeks after President Hoover signs the new relief bill.

That is the time set by reconstruction finance corporation officials, charged with administering the $2,125,000,000 unemployment relief program.

President Hoover has yet to give his official approval to the act. But this is being delayed only until he selects the two men necessary to complete the directorate of the reconstruction corporation.

The white house has indicated that signature can be expected before the end of the week.

Corporation officials ask a month in which to perfect their organization. Then they will be ready to start the golden stream of relief loans—loans designed to create employment ultimately for hundreds of thousands and provide food for thousands of others.

Already the desks of reconstruction officials are piled with inquiries. Requests, carefully guarded from publicity, have come from states, cities and private corporations desirous of borrowing under the terms of the relief bill.

Even more forceful sign of the times is the 40,000 applications for jobs received from private citizens.

The corporation, originally set up to break the jam of frozen credit and protect the financial structure of the nation, is frantically preparing for its new and even more complicated task. Board meetings of from three to five hours are daily occurrences.

GARNER INVITED TO MAKE CURTIS REPLY

SPENCER, Ia., July 21.—(UP)—An invitation was extended today to John N. Garner to come to Spencer and reply in person to Vice President Charles Curtis famous "too damn dumb to understand" phrase of the 1928 campaign.

The invitation was extended by A. J. Livingston, retired farmer, at whom Curtis' remark was directed.

It was while Livingston was heckling the vice president about farm relief during an address at the Clay county fair in 1928 that the now famous remark was made.

Livingston, in a letter addressed to Speaker of the House Garner at Uvalde, Tex., said local farmers do not accept the implication that they are "too damn dumb" and would like to hear Garner's reply.

"MA" KENNEDY TO SUE HER HUSBAND

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(UP)—Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy Hudson, who even bought hair tonic for the bald spot of her "what-a-man," so she said, today was reported ready to sue him for $100,000.

Marion P. Betty, her attorney, announced that papers in the suit, charging defamation of character, would be filed in superior court today.

"What-a-man," now cigar clerk Guy Edward Hudson of Boulder City, Nev., aroused "Ma's" ire when he was quoted as saying she had a new "sweetie."

"After all I have done for him, too," said Ma. "The terrible things—oh, the terrible things he has said about me. And I even bought him hair tonic for his bald spot. I had to purchase his razor blades and tooth paste, too. This talk is just a smoke-screen of publicity to hide his own deficiencies."

Dedication Of Building Is Postponed

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—Because of the death of George Rolph, brother of Gov. James Rolph, formal opening and inspection of the state exposition building and dedication of the Olympic memorial entrance has been postponed until August 3.

Dedication of the remodeled structure at Exposition park had been planned for next Saturday by the Sixth Agricultural board, W. M. Bowen, chairman, said in announcing the postponement.

Roy Robertson Says Followers Will Campaign For Candidates

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(UP)—The board of commissioners of the District of Columbia today ordered the evacuation of the district by the bonus army.

It directed General Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, to see that the order was carried out.

An extreme time limit of August 4 was given in the order.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(UP)—Roy W. Robertson, leader of the death watch picket at the capitol last week, said today he probably would start his 500 men within 48 hours on a political barnstorming tour of the country to campaign for bonus legislation.

Robertson's food supply was practically exhausted, but he was delaying his threatened march to the Mayflower hotel pending the result of police efforts to obtain provisions for him.

"We're going to have action," Robertson said, "and it will come within 48 hours. The best hope is that we'll start out on a barnstorming tour and try to elect Congressmen and Senators who'll give us a break."

"To hell with this idea of sitting around here doing nothing but parading a living," Robertson said, his men would travel by freight train.

"We like the fresh air," he added, laughing.

The police assigned a supply wagon to round up provisions for the bonus army. Commander in Chief Waters of the main bonus force, who cut Robertson's men off his commissary list, will be deprived of his authority in distributing food supplies, according to an edict from Police Superintendent Glassford.

Robertson was skeptical of the

ECONOMIC PARLEYS IN CANADA RESUMED

OTTAWA, Ont., July 21.—(UP)—The Imperial Economic Conference moved with precision and speed today toward a united trade front by the British Empire which, if achieved, means a serious blow at American exports.

At the opening session of the conference, Stanley Baldwin of Great Britain offered to the delegates representing the far flung nations of the Empire comprising one-fourth of the people of the world, a "wide extension" of tariff preferences in dealing with Britain.

Premier Richard B. Bennett of Canada proposed such tariff preferences between the dominions and the mother country and made a concrete offer to Britain of free entry for such of her products as do not interfere with Canadian enterprise.

HOOVER HOPES TO SALVE OVER HIS WET STAND

Reported Will "Pass Buck" in Acceptance Speech to Win Dry Vote

WASHINGTON, July 21.—It is reported on very good authority that President Hoover is planning to take a stand on prohibition in his speech of acceptance which will, according to the opinion of himself and his advisers, remove him from the hue and cry over the question of re-submission and repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

He has an idea that what he proposes to do will satisfy the militant prohibitionists and particularly that part of the group that wants to stand by him, and are going to stand by him, in any case. He will do this in his acceptance speech.

It is reported that he is going to declare that a president, in his official position, is entirely removed from relationship to Constitutional amendments; he cannot put them in the Constitution; he cannot take them out, and that it is a prerogative entirely up to congress. He does not even pass upon them as upon other matters of legislation. He then will call attention to the fact that while the Republican plank on this question would submit to the states an amendment to take the place of the Eighteenth amendment, that as to whether they do it or not is dependent upon the voters themselves, through their election of congressmen.

Has High Hopes Mr. Hoover imagined that by making this kind of a statement he will remove himself from the issue, and he would thereby win the favor of the prohibitionists. He is doing this not on the theory that he is for prohibition himself or out and out to retain the Eighteenth amendment, but that

TWO GANGSTERS ARE KILLED BY BULLETS

SHAWANO, Wis., July 21.—(UP)—Two gangsters, one long believed by police to have been a survivor of the St. Valentine's day massacre and the other a power in a turbulent Chicago teamsters' union, were killed near here today in gang fashion.

The dead were Patrick (Paddy) Berrell, alias Pat McMann, vice president of the International Teamsters union, and William Marx, his bodyguard who was hunted after the St. Valentine's day slaughter on a police theory that he was present and survived the machine gunning.

The pair were cut down by machine gun and sawed-off shotgun fire as they stepped from the door of a roadside five miles from here.

Prominent Long Beach Man Victim

Identity of Woman Not Yet Established; Hit While Walking on Tracks

A BEAUTIFUL red haired woman, as yet unidentified, and a man were killed at 12:55 a. m. today, when they were struck down by a Balboa bound Pacific Electric train, at Bridgeport, near Sunset Beach.

There were few witnesses to the tragedy, due to the late hour of the accident, but according to reports reaching Santa Ana, the man and the woman were walking along the tracks and were hit apparently before they knew of the approach of the train.

The man was Jay P. Bassett, 34, of 1083 Roosevelt street, Long Beach. He died in the Long Beach Community hospital at 3:20 a. m. today, without regaining consciousness. A fractured skull was given as the cause of death.

The woman, approximately 25 years old, was instantly killed. One foot was severed, the other almost cut off and her body was badly broken. Death probably resulted from a jagged hole in her skull.

Her body was taken to the Dixon funeral parlors at Huntington Beach, and this afternoon officers in two counties were endeavoring to identify her.

She is described as having been five feet, seven inches in height, weighed 125 pounds, and had beautiful red hair. She was wearing a dark brown coat and a tan colored dress at the time. Officers describe her as being "well dressed."

Coroner Earl Abbey and Bert Castile, assistant coroner, took charge of the investigation soon after the accident. They stated today that no inquest would be set at this time, pending the identification of the woman. They said they were inclined to believe she lived in Long Beach.

NATION CONTINUES IN HEAT WAVE GRIP

CHICAGO, July 21.—(UP)—Most of the region between the Rockies and the Alleghenies continued to bake under a blistering sun today, with hot southwest winds. It was the 12th consecutive day of torrid weather that has taken some 200 lives and caused intense suffering and large loss in crops and livestock.

Cooler air from the faraway Pacific was rolling over the country, a mile or more high, bringing relief and already has been effective in the far southwest and the northwest.

The midwest placed its hope for relief in showers predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS PICK UP IN ALL PARTS OF NATION ACCORDING TO NEWS SURVEY

By UNITED PRESS

BUSINESS is quickening in hamlet and big city, among rural folk and urbanites, in about the same ratio, today's survey by the United Press indicated.

Typical items told of heavier demand for hardware on the farms, the money made available through higher prices for livestock, and of plans for increased employment of motion picture actors. Others as diverse in origin recounted more shipping through the Welland Canal, more passengers on airlines and more business for scores of various lines of enterprise.

WELLAND, Ont., July 21.—(UP)—Traffic through the Welland ship canal for June totaled 1,064,527 tons, an increase of 49,058 tons over shipments during June, 1931, when traffic totaled 1,015,469.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 21.—(UP)—Bricklayers, masons, tile and marble setters here have voted to reduce working time to 2 1-2 days a week. The action will give work to twice as many men. Each laborer will earn $25 a week, instead of the $50 heretofore received.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(UP)—Fidelity Trust company increased its deposits from $1,981,000 at end of first quarter to $4,886,000 at end of fourth quarter of its first fiscal year.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—(UP)—A trend toward increased employment in many trades was evident in Pennsylvania during June, according to the monthly report of Lewis G. Hines, federal employment director for the state. The building trades, due to relief construction, reported an upturn in employment and state highway building gave work to many hitherto unemployed men.

CHICAGO, July 21.—(UP)—An exhibition of a fire-conditioning equipment by 23 companies at the Commonwealth Edison building has averaged 300 admissions a day with sales well above expectations.

The workers, non-union men, have been trapped below ground since Wednesday morning, when they entered the mine despite warnings from the union pickets.

CONSOLIDATED IN NEW RICHFIELD BID

NEW YORK, July 21.—(UP)—The Consolidated Oil corporation is planning to increase its bid of $18,000,000 in six per cent preferred stock and a small block of common stock for the properties of the Richfield Oil company of California, in receivership since January, 1931, it was learned today.

Raising of the Consolidated bid was forced, according to reports, by the desire of the Standard Oil company of California also to make an offer for the company reputed to be in the neighborhood of $21,000,000.

Ownership of most of the Richfield stock rests with the Cities Service company but receivers for the Richfield company are believed to be desirous of a quick sale of the properties which Cities Service opposes.

BOLIVIA TODAY IN STATE OF SIEGE

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 21.—(UP)—A state of siege was decreed today throughout Bolivia.

The country was in a high state of excitement, with a growing demand among part of the population for war with Paraguay over the Gran Chaco territorial dispute.

The cabinet approved the decree, announcing that "complications which may compromise national peace and armed aggression in the southeast making it urgent to adopt measures of an extraordinary character, the cabinet declares a state of siege throughout the republic."

W. R. Boyd Jr., executive vice president of the institute declared that American motorists paid $536,397,458 in gasoline taxes in 1931, and estimated that the federal tax this year would add an additional $165,000,000 to the burden.

"High rates are creating a reduction in gasoline consumption," he said. "The oil industry and the motorists are being taxed to death."

SOCIALIST OFFICIALS ARE OUSTED

Von Papen Government Holds Greatest Power in All History of Germany

JUNKERS IN CONTROL

Disturbances Reported in Various Parts of Nation and Some Bloodshed

BERLIN, July 21.—(UP)—The old aristocracy of the Hohenzollern dynasty, returned to power through virtual dictatorship and martial law in Prussia, planned today to grasp absolute power in the Reich by removing more Socialist officials and possibly outlawing Communists who intend to strike.

The government under the cabinet formed by Franz von Papen, already holds the greatest power in the nation's history — power greater than that held in the days of Kaiser Wilhelm II, greater than that held in Bismarck's day.

The cabinet's action had nullified, practically, all the results of the post-war revolution that established the German republic by the Hohenzollerns, as a Republic. It had placed the Junkers party, the party of wealth and aristocracy, back in power.

Police, on orders of Military Supervisor Gen. Runstedt, occupied the printing department of the Communist headquarters, Luth-knecht house, where leaflets appealing for a general strike were being printed. The Communist daily newspaper, Rote Fahne, could not be published while headquarters were occupied. Berlin remained calm, although 90 persons were arrested for distributing Communist leaflets.

Three men were seriously wounded in an argument between Fascists and Iron front Socialists at Buer, in the Ruhr district, whom a Nazi fired into a crowd in front of a saloon.

MONO JURIST WILL PRESIDE AT TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(UP)—Superior Judge Pat R. Parker of Mono county will preside at the trial of Superior Judges Walter S. Gates, indicted recently by the county grand jury on a charge of accepting a bribe.

The indictment was an outgrowth of a lengthy investigation into receivership racketeering in Los Angeles county, in which Judge Gates played an active part.

Governor James Rolph, Jr., appointed Judge Parker to hear the trial, according to an announcement of Judge B. Roy Schauer, who simultaneously postponed arraignment of Judge Gates until later in the day.

PETROLEUM LEADERS OPPOSE HIGH TAXES

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 21.—(UP)—Petroleum leaders are alarmed by the pyramiding taxes on oil and oil products, it was revealed here today as leaders of the oil industry gathered for a meeting of the American Petroleum Institute.

W. R. Boyd Jr., executive vice president of the institute declared that American motorists paid $536,397,458 in gasoline taxes in 1931, and estimated that the federal tax this year would add an additional $165,000,000 to the burden.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, July 21. (To the Editor of The Register.) I see where Mr. Mellon is coming home "bringing the data on the economic conference." "A conference." "A conference." That's all we have had for years. The world has just conferred itself into bankruptcy. There hasn't been a conference since the beginning of the war that hasn't stirred up more hate and done more harm than it has good. A conference is just an admission that you want somebody to join you in your troubles. The world can't improve till it gets so poor that it can't send delegates to a conference. Then it will begin to improve by depending on itself.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

So monumental is the job confronting the board that serious consideration is being given to establishment of some new machinery to aid in passing on applications for loans. This would be designed to hasten action—a primary aim of the corporation's officials.

Under the terms of the relief bill, the directors have authority to allocate $200,000,000 to state for direct relief. These advances must be used for meeting emergency conditions.

A huge fund of $1,500,000,000 is set aside for financing self-liquidating construction projects. States, municipalities, and semi-public corporations will be eligible for the advances. The construction must be needed. It must guarantee additional employment; and it must be of such character that it will pay returns enough to secure the federal loans. Adequate initial security is also demanded by the relief act.

All the innumerable details of these huge financial undertakings must be passed upon by the corporation. Congress, as a last minute amendment to the relief act, required monthly statements of all loans as an additional check by a government institution clothed with tremendous powers. Criticism is certain as long as Congress remains in session, and the corporation is faced with the necessity of working swiftly but with super caution.

the prohibitionists are driven to either him or Roosevelt and Roosevelt being on a 100 per cent wet platform, and Hoover avoiding the issue in this way, of course, according to his thought, and the thought of his advisers, make him the recipient of the prohibitionists' votes.

Some of the "drys" it is declared, would be greatly gratified if the president would re-state his attitude as personally favoring the amendment. The idea of his followers, and those who are going to support him anyhow, is that this will be very "strategic" because it gives the plank that is satisfactory to the "wets" with a candidate who at least appears to be leaning toward the "dry," and that it pulls the "dry" and the "wets" to the same candidate.

On the other hand, there are many "dry" leaders in Washington and throughout the country who are thoroughly disgusted with this attitude of the President and his advisers. They declare that he is taking this position in order to gain the "dry" vote; that he is fooling one or the other, and by what happened in the last four years, he is not fooling the "wets." These "drys" point out that they have already trusted the President as a dry leader too far, and that with another four years, after his practically dictating the "wet" plank in the platform, that the "drys" will have to start their whole fight where they were 25 years ago.

Work for Solons

These leaders declare that prohibition, the Eighteenth Amendment and its enforcement will be helped more greatly by refusing to be further deceived by the "weasel" words of the President, and that the best policy is to devote themselves to the election of Congressmen and Senators—that this part of the President's program is all right, but to refuse to even by implication suggest that Hoover should be supported in this "wet-dry" act. They declare further that if he should lose with the endorsement of the "drys," the "dry" cause would receive a more terrific blow than Hoover has yet given it. And if he won after endorsement, they would get little, if anything better than they have gotten in the last four years, which led them at the end of their journey, into a "wet" Republican convention putting in a re-submission plank to replace the Eighteenth amendment.

MILITARISTS IN CONTROL OF PRUSSIA TODAY

There were disturbances during the night in the workers' district of Berlin, Neu Koeln, where 200 communists attacked an omnibus and forced the passengers to get out. The communists began firing when police arrived. One communist was killed by police fire.

Opposition to the sudden move of the Von Papen cabinet developed in two forms: plans for radical action by communists and legal action by ousted Prussian officials and southern German states. The Prussians held that the emergency decrees were unconstitutional.

The Bavarian government at Munich, apparently feeling that Von Papen would attempt to seize control there, instituted a test case in the supreme court at Leipzig. The officials ousted by the Von Papen regime after years of political power included the entire Prussian cabinet, the chief of police of Berlin and his aides, and other prominent foes of the monarchist-militarist regime.

Berlin and the important province of Brandenburg were under virtual martial law, except that civil courts continued to function.

The body of Bassett was removed to Long Beach undertaking parlor, and inquest over his body will be held in that county, it was said.

Bassett is said to be survived by his wife and three children in Long Beach. He was a prominent member of the Long Beach post of the American Legion Drum corps, it was reported.

POLICE ARREST S. A. SHOP LIFTER

Police arrested Mrs. Eloise Ysais, of 1802 West Third street, yesterday afternoon and took her to the police station to search her for three dresses reported stolen from the Peggy Shop, at 304 West Fourth street.

A police matron searched her and the dresses were not found, but a pair of shoes, assertedly stolen from the Kirby Shoe company, 110 East Fourth street, was found.

The Kirby store was notified and after a conference, the woman was allowed to go to her home, pending some kind of action against her today.

The dresses reported stolen were worth $15. The shoes were valued at $1.95. The Peggy Shop reported the theft of the dresses soon after the Ysais woman and two daughters had been in the place.

TWO JAILED FOR BREAKING QUARANTINE

Two women and a man were lodged in the county jail yesterday afternoon, and two children of one of the women were taken to the county detention home, following the arrests on charges of breaking quarantine of their home by taking rides in an automobile.

The three arrested are Mrs. Josephine Munson, 30, of 1702 West Pine street; her sister, Mrs. Hazel Boebert, 21, and Mrs. Boebert's husband, Frank Boebert, 27, of the same address.

The trouble started when a small daughter of Mrs. Munson took sick. Dr. K. H. Sutherland diagnosed the case as diphtheria and ordered the house quarantined. The father of the little girl immediately obeyed the law, Dr. Sutherland said, and did not enter the house.

In the meantime, however, Mr. and Mrs. Boebert came here from their home in Oregon. They were told not to enter the house, but did anyway. Dr. Sutherland reported. After that, he learned they had gone for auto rides at various times, even taking the stricken child with them.

It was then that the complaint for their arrests was ordered but it was not served until after the quarantine period had been lifted, which was yesterday.

THIRD TRIAL BEGAN ON LIQUOR CHARGE

The city of Santa Ana started for the third trial today an attempt to convict Rufus Nieblas, Santa Ana Mexican, on a charge of possession of liquor.

Twice the man has been tried in Judge J. G. Mitchell's court and twice the jury has failed to agree, being discharged after hours of deliberation. Several days ago a jury spent the night at a hotel in trying to reach a decision, but was docketed the next morning 11 to 1.

Nieblas is asserted to have sold to Police Officer J. P. McWilliams, a quart of whiskey from the door of his home.

Today a special venire was exhausted and another venire ordered for 1:30 p. m. today. Clyde Downing, city attorney, is trying the case for the city and D. G. Wettlin, attorney, is defending Nieblas.

Fourth Generation Baby Born Today To Pioneer Family

The fourth generation of the pioneer Jerome family in this community was born today at 11:15 o'clock this morning when Wade Thompson was born to Wade Thompson and Muriel Jerome Thompson, both of this city, at St. Joseph's hospital.

Mrs. Muriel Jerome Thompson is the youngest daughter of W. C. Jerome, well known elvite leader who served as auditor for many years, and who is now a candidate for supervisor.

The newly born son of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson is the youngest member of four generations of Jeromes that have lived in Orange county. There are three unbroken lines of the family now living here. Pat may or may not have had a hand in determining the date of the baby's birth, but the boy was born on the same day of the month as was W. C. Jerome, father of W. C. Jerome of this community, and who came here long ago attired in the uniform of an Union soldier immediately after the Civil War. He died some years ago and his remains are buried here.

BURGLARIES IN COUNTY SOLVED BY CONFESSIONS

Two youths, Lloyd McCarty, 17, and Willard McCormack, 19, in jail in Los Angeles, late yesterday are purported to have confessed to a series of burglaries here late in May which may account for the recovery of some of loot taken at that time which was valued at several thousands of dollars, according to Logan Jackson, sheriff.

The boys admitted four Orange county burglaries, the sheriff said. They will be brought here this afternoon and be taken to the various houses they robbed. Officers are of the opinion that when they arrive they also will confess to several others in the north end of the county which so far have proved mysteries to authorities.

List Places Entered

Included in the burglaries which the youths admit, is the burglary of the home of J. C. Tuffree, in which a diamond watch, various other jewelry, a gun, automobile and other articles worth $5000 were reported stolen; the home of A. A. Phillips, east of Anaheim; the home of Fred Jacobson, on Rio Vista avenue and the home of R. B. Newcomb, at La Veta and Batavia streets in Orange.

Sheriff Jackson reported that some of the things taken from all four of these homes had been recovered or would be in the next few hours. The boys also admitted they robbed the Earl Mathews home at Placentia, and one other burglary which they have not made clear, so far as identification is concerned.

The admissions of guilt came about after the boys had been arrested by Los Angeles officers for other "jobs" in that county and their fingerprints checked according to Herman Zabel, finger print expert for the sheriff's office.

Prints Solve Others

Prints of McCormack corresponded with prints found on a Hoover sweeper, alleged to have been stolen in one of the burglaries and later recovered at Norwalk five days ago, where it had been sold.

His prints also were found on the Tuffree car which was stolen at the time the Tuffree home was entered. A canteen, found at the Newcomb home was identified as one that was taken from the Jacobson home, each tying up the two boys with all four of the burglaries.

Zabel said today that he expected the boys to admit to at least three or four other burglaries in the county which have not been cleared up and which occurred about the same time as the six admitted and in the same manner.

MERCHANTS FACE FINES AT LAGUNA

Following a report by City Clerk George W. Prior that more than 35 business houses in Laguna Beach have failed to pay their city licenses for 1932, the city council last night passed a minute order instructing Police Chief Abe W. Johnson to warn the delinquents that unless the fees are paid by August 1 the offenders will be prosecuted criminally under the license ordinance, which makes it a misdemeanor to operate a business without a license and provides as a penalty a fine not exceeding $200, or 90 days in jail or both.

Police Commissioner M. B. McMillan reported that several business men had refused to pay the license, declaring they knew that others were not doing so.

City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey was instructed to prepare an amendment to the license ordinance, patterned after a similar section of the Newport Beach ordinance which assesses a license fee on every truck entering the city to do business or to make deliveries. The Newport Beach provision recently was upheld by the state supreme court, and Harvey informed the council that a number of Orange county cities are amending their license laws so they may take advantage of an opportunity to protect local business men. In Newport Beach it is known as the "truck" law and according to Harvey would apply to any wagon making deliveries, even if the order were placed out of town and not solicited in the city. The amendment draft will be submitted at the first meeting in August.

DRAWS JAIL TERM FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Marcario Persina, 33, orange picker, of Orange, pleaded guilty before Judge J. G. Mitchell, in police court yesterday afternoon and was fined $200.

Unable to raise the money, Persina was committed to the county jail, where he is to serve one day for each $2 of the fine.

The youth, which Persina was said to have been driving, collided with a car at First and Flower street early yesterday morning driven by Fred Miller at 638 East Seventeenth street. No one was hurt in the accident.

Local Briefs

Santa Ana police were last night asked to notify Mrs. Roscoe Long, of 509 North Bristol street, that her father had died suddenly in Long Beach. The father was Samuel B. Culley. Officers went to the home of Mrs. Long, but no one was there at the time.

RECOVER BODY OF SWIMMER AT H. B.

The body of Frank Rebal, 17, of Norwalk, who was drowned near Huntington Beach last Saturday afternoon, was discovered near the Huntington Beach municipal pier at 5:30 o'clock this morning by Joe Carr, operator of a bait stand.

The body was brought to shore by Life Guards Gene Belshie and Bud Higgins and after a death certificate had been signed by Coroner Earl Abbey, the remains were taken to Norwalk for interment.

The body of Frank's brother, Johnnie, 14, was recovered early Monday morning near the pier. Both disappeared while swimming last Saturday.

REGISTRATIONS FOR PRIMARIES CLOSE TONIGHT

Voters of Santa Ana and Orange county have their last opportunity to register for the county and state primary elections today, the last day for registering, transferring of addresses and changing of party affiliations.

County Clerk Joe Backs announced yesterday that the Broadway entrance to the courthouse will be kept open until 9:30 o'clock or later tonight for the convenience of last-minute registrars.

The largest number of voters in the history of Orange county has registered this year. There were 54,850 registered for the May primaries and since that time

Clerk Backs estimates that 2000 more have registered or will have registered today.

Orange county ranks seventh in the state for number of registered voters and may beat Sacramento county out for sixth place. Los Angeles county has 1,040,033 registered voters, more than the 16 biggest counties of the state combined, including San Francisco and Alameda counties, figures on file at the county clerk's office indicate.

Time Limit On Special Items

Attention was called today to the fact that due to an error in the advertisement of the Sohtag store which ran in last night's paper, six items which are offered for sale will not be sold for the three-day period as advertised, but for Thursday only. The items are specials in restricted quantity and the time limit was supposed to have been shown as Thursday only in the advertising.

EMPLOYMENT OF RELATIVES IS ATTACKED

Depleting a network of interlocking relations in the county courthouse, Booth Tarkington Dowden, supervisory candidate, last night in a talk before the Unemployed association of Santa Ana pointed out conditions in county government he proposes to correct if elected to the board of supervisors.

"Past investigation," Dowden said, "has shown me that there is a strong interlocking relationship between departments in the county house. My platform is to clean these out and that includes married women, too. I believe that there should be only one person from each family employed by the county in such times as these."

Striking at conditions at the County Hospital, Dowden declared that Dr. Harry Ealzer and relatives alone are drawing $7600 in salaries each year. Furthering his charges against the hospital, he alleged the mal treatment of workers, some of whom declared received solid food only twice each week.

Administration of the county welfare department by Byron Curry was also attacked by Dowden who proposed a thorough cleaning out of this division.

ORGANIZATION IS FORMED BY STATE WORKERS

Formal organization of Chapter 24 of the California State Employees association was effected by half a hundred members meeting, with friends, in Irvine park Tuesday evening. The session represented the third in a series called to organize an Orange county branch of the association. Temporary officers, previously named, were elected to permanent posts and a constitution and by-laws adopted.

J. A. Scherman, of Orange, state ranger for Orange county, is president of the new chapter, other officers including vice president, W. A. Craig, Brea, with the California highway commission; secretary, Mayter Meyer, Santa Ana, of the highway patrol; treasurer, Hugh Henry, Doheny park, of the highway maintenance department.

Beryl Babcock of Sacramento, executive manager of the state association, addressed the chapter after a supper in the park, calling attention to the fact that between 15,000 and 17,000 workers were on the payroll of the state.

The chapter, which plans about eight meetings a year, will convene again the latter part of August.

Entertainment from the Anaheim Conservatory of Music was offered by pupils of Mrs. Anna Siegel, with George Stinson, Santa Ana's "singing cop," contributing solos.

A vote of thanks was passed commending J. S. Smart of Smart and Final for his whole-hearted cooperation with the organization in the city relief work. A vote of confidence in the officers of the association was also passed. Following a report of a committee appointed to confer with the district attorney's office, the original constitution and by-laws of the organization were voted to be maintained and two amendments concerning membership and duties of officers were adopted.

COFFEE VALUED AT $11,000,000 IS DESTROYED

Pointing to South America, and Brazil in particular, as a rich field for American commerce, whenever American business learns how to deal with the Latin American purchaser, and describing not only scenery, but social, religious and political conditions in a comprehensive manner, Harry W. Lewis talked before an appreciative audience at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night on his observations while visiting our neighbors to the south.

"Twenty years ago," said the speaker, "the nearest route from New York City to Rio Janeiro was by way of Europe. Our shipping interests were slow about discovering the importance of relations with South America, but today there are numerous lines of transportation between our ports, both Atlantic and Pacific, and the important ports of the southern continent. The work of our representatives is bearing fruit in increasing demands for comforts and conveniences on the part of the people of Latin America.

"Our missionaries and educators, our Y. M. C. A. workers, and our service clubs, especially Rotary, have done a great economic service in addition to their other benefits, in improving our mutual relations, and building a better understanding. Increased trade is a natural result."

Factor in Citrus
That our California oranges came to us from Brazil was one of the interesting facts offered. While Brazil gave us this valuable variety of fruit, she has been slow to realize its value in her own trade, but of late years, her growers have been learning from California methods, and they are now on the way to an increase of efficiency in production and marketing which will make them formidable competitors with California in citrus production.

Price fixing by the government was an experiment brought on to stabilize the coffee market, which has operated with disastrous results. The set price, guaranteed by the government, led to a tremendous overproduction, which in turn swamped the market. vast storage houses were built and filled with the coffee bags, until there was no more room to store them. Lewis stated that for the past nine months, the coffee has been burned up at the rate of one million bags a month, to get it out of the way. Since the present price of coffee is about $11 a bag, which is really less than the cost of production, this represents a loss of $11,000,000 a month, spent for a gigantic bonfire simply to get rid of the surplus. The demonstration of price fixing, in the opinion of the speaker, was not encouraging.

Brazil was described as a nation of vast possibilities and resources, as a friend, a neighbor and a customer. The development of good will through the efforts of our religious, social and educational leaders whom we send to Brazil, is doing much to promote friendship. The improvement of living conditions, through education, is leading to increased demands for American-made goods.

"Brazil needs to be carefully watched by the United States, both as a friend and a competitor," said Lewis. "Our co-operation and friendly aid at this time will help to bring about the development of untouchable resources, both material and spiritual."

Editor Register:

I desire to inform the citizens and taxpayers of the Newport Beach Union High school district the conditions we met when we protested July 18, 1932, against the increase of $13,000 in the school budget for the year 1932-33.

The board acknowledged they had already in May, contracted with the teachers and fixed the budget, although we, the taxpayers, were given no opportunity to know what the budget was until July 18, 1932; the budget and salaries fixed two months before we could legally know what they were and file any protest.

Salaries ranged from $4800 to $1600, only two at the lower figure, and all salaries averaging more than $2500 per annum. No salaries were cut except some day laborers.

Thirteen thousand dollars was added to the budget because they wanted the same amount of money and so many of us were delinquent in taxes they asked for $13,000 more money.

This taxes those who do pay, extra money and does not relieve the delinquent as the amount is assessed against his property plus penalties; and already two-fifths of some districts are delinquent. The question was asked if they had a teacher on economics and they said "they had;" at no reduced salary, of course.

One official remarked, "Well, you know there are many people who own property here but do not live here." That remark is real advertising, don't you think? Mr. Waterman stated that this district has no income industries, oil wells or orange groves and is impoverished as shown by the delinquent tax list and unable to pay salaries at the present purchasing value of the dollar which is doubled now.

Is the servant greater than his master? There is no inducement to own a home or pay taxes on one, when one man's salary is $4800 per year and mine is less than $1000 per year.

Property is being confiscated for taxes and thousands of lots in Newport Beach will never be redeemed.

Unless public tax spenders realize the terrible economic condition of the tax payers and is willing to take his cut in salaries the taxpayer has only one recourse and that is to organize a taxpayers' strike and refuse to pay any more taxes of any kind, and then when dispossessed of our homes, join the soup lines.

The power to confiscate property in a wholesale way is the power to destroy our homes. What is education for?

I am respectfully,
Eugene U. Briggs, Corona Del Mar, Calif.

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out the congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID tablets have an almost unbelievable record of success. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McCoy Drug Co. and druggists everywhere invite every sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case!

ALLEGED THIEF CAUGHT AFTER 30 MILE CHASE

Following a wild chase when Fruit Patrol Officers Fred Swayze and Steve Duhart trailed an alleged chicken thief for 30 miles, speeding through towns and up the state highway from Newport road and Tustin to Whittier, Art Kelley, 32, who resides on South

Claudia street in Anaheim, was captured by the officers late last night and lodged in the county jail, charged with burglary.

While the officers were on their regular beat along the county highways last night, they saw Kelley's car parked near the side of the road near the ranch of R. G. Sutton, on Newport road. They pulled their car ahead and waited for Kelley to return to the car. Kelley returned, loaded 25 chickens in the car from the Sutton ranch and, instead of going in the direction the officers were located, turned his car around and speeded away.

Gets Away Once

The officers immediately gave chase but Kelley eluded them by doubling back and forth. The officers had known the license number of the car as it had been reported to have participated in a number of chicken thefts in the county before. Suspecting the destination of the alleged chicken thief, the fruit patrol officers headed for Whittier and laid in wait for Kelley where they caught him.

With the arrest of Kelley, officers believe a large number of chicken thefts in the county will be solved. The car driven by Kelley is the same one that participated in a number of robberies, officers claim.

Prisoner on Parole

Kelley was paroled from the Orange county jail in May on condition that he leave the state of California. This followed his arrest on April 9, by Santa Ana police officers, who arrested him on a charge of possession of liquor.

In court at that time he was fined $400 with an alternate of spending 200 days in the county jail. He served several weeks and was paroled on condition he leave the state.

Santa Ana officers today are seeking to try Kelley now for violation of the parole.

Heiden for "500" scores, and to Mrs. Martin Hiten and J. Forrest in rook.

Cake and coffee were served by the committee, Mrs. Louis Muchow, Mrs. Herman Kruse, Mrs. Francis Thill, Mrs. George Gates and Mrs. O. J. Leimer. Forty-eight guests were present.

JAIL SENTENCES FOR SPEEDERS ARE SUSPENDED

Yesterday was "Speeders' Day" in the Santa Ana police court in every sense of the word.

Seven persons arrested during the past 10 days made personal appearances, but the city was only $15 richer on their account today as only one of the seven was fined.

Two were certified to the juvenile court. They were: John Battle of 1315 West Washington avenue and Walter Ruff, also of Santa Ana.

Four others pleaded guilty to the charges but were released after they had been given five day jail sentences, all suspended. These were: James M. Spinks of Arling-ton; Frank Neal, Anaheim; Dale I. Sollen, Fullerton and Charles A. Dublin, of 333 West Myrtle street.

The only speeder who felt the penalty of the law was C. R. Clemens of Costa Mesa, who pleaded guilty and was fined $15, which he paid.

Other cases in police court yesterday were: W. J. Pickering, charged with failure to make a boulevard stop, fined $2; C. E. Johnson, Santa Ana, parking from 2 a. m. to 5 a. m., $1; Charles Van Wyk, overtime parking, $1; Bob White, Santa Ana, petty theft, 30 days in jail, suspended.

OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS FOR HEALTH CAMP

A county wide campaign for funds to finance the Children's Health camp in the Santiago canyon has been authorized by the board of directors of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association. It was revealed today by R. W. Balch of Anaheim, president of the organization. Balch pointed out that at a recent meeting of the board of directors, the immediate need for funds, and the demand upon the camp to care for more children, have made it necessary to launch the appeal.

The directors hope to raise $12,000 in the county, which would be sufficient to endow 24 beds for one year.

K. O. Baker, who has been associated for the past eight years with the Los Angeles Community Chest, has been selected to direct the campaign. He also has assisted in the Oakland Community Chest work. He has just returned from Arizona and New Mexico, where he was campaign director for the Salvation Army.

Use 600 Workers
Balch pointed out that the Health Camp is one of the best known institutions in Orange county and that its work is the building up of physical vigor in children who need such a program.

The county wide appeal is to be carried on during the next six weeks. Baker said that he would have an organization of nearly 600 volunteer workers recruited from among the friends of the organization.

In Santa Ana it is planned to have 75 volunteers. In Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange there will be 25 each. Brea, Buena Park, Costa Mesa, Garden Grove, Laguna Beach, La Habra, Newport Beach and Placentia will have 20 each. Huntington Beach will have 25.

Olinda, Orangehorpe, Richfield, San Clemente, San Juan Capistrano, Seal Beach, Stanton, Sunset Beach, Talbot, Villa Park, Westminster, Wintersburg and Yorba Linda, will have 10 workers each.

Results Attained

In the past, individuals and organizations have been generous in their contributions to the health camp, Balch said. He pointed out that this campaign would take the place of the former requests and donations from these persons and organizations, so that there will be no duplication of this appeal.

Sixty-eight Orange county children were cared for a time camp during the past year. They gained a total weight of 477 and one-half pounds, thus building up resistance to disease. If it should attack them, they continued their school work under competent teachers. Each week Dr. Waldo S. Wehrly, consulting specialist for the association carries on a clinic at the camp for the youngsters.

The association has extended an invitation to the public to visit the camp on Sunday afternoons.

BUENA PARK'S SCHOOL BUDGET IS CUT $1000

BUENA PARK, July 21.—The budget for the Buena Park school district as passed on at the meeting held in the Grand avenue school this week, will be $1000 less than for last year and includes an additional teacher for the Grand avenue faculty. Arthur Corey, who has been superintendent of the local schools, has accepted a 50 per cent cut in his salary for the ensuing term. Corey will continue on as superintendent of the Buena Park schools but will devote one-half of his time to county work.

The total budget for the coming year is $25,250. The teachers' salary for last year totaled $27,605 and for this coming year will be $26,500. This sum includes the additional teacher who has been obtained in order to care for the fifth grade, which grew too large for one teacher last year. It is planned to move the Grand avenue kindergarten to the Masonic temple and the former kindergarten will be utilized as another grade room. The budget includes transportation for 20 students on West Orangehorpe by the Fullerton Union High school bus.

BREA, July 21.—Street Commissioner Boxall announced Wednesday evening at the city council meeting that the work of installing new pipes on the streets, for which bonds were voted last fall, had been completed. Further street improvements were under discussion.

CAMPAIN ON BUYING ORGED IN BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, July 21.—All lines of business in this country would improve, in spite of other conditions. If potential buyers would consider their normal needs and not the effect that the purchases might have on their neighbors, it was stated by several of those present at a meeting of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Acting President W. L. Jordan named a committee, consisting of Theo. Robins, Irvin G. Gordon, H. H. Williamson and Secretary G. C. Macleod to suggest and if possible carry out remedies for this condition.

Many people would buy things that they really need if they were not haunted by the fear that purchases would be criticised, it was stated, and this applies particularly to people working for city, county and other public services. The result is that business is being kept in a sub-normal condition for that sole reason, it was declared. "Those who spend their money on necessities," said Robins, "and on things they would normally purchase should be commended, because they are that way helping the merchant, the manufacturer and the worker, and what helps one helps all. Instead of that, a person who makes a purchase is often criticised by a certain class of people who should know that all business helps them, and it is by the circulation of money and the resumption of business that those out of work will be put back to work."

The special committee met after the chamber session and it was suggested that a local, or perhaps wider, campaign should be inaugurated to stimulate normal buying, not to ask people to buy things they do not need, but to emphasize that buying is helpful to everybody, the buyer, the seller and the general public.

One of the things the committee did yesterday was to start out a $1 order, redeemable for cash at the chamber office in 24 hours, to determine how much that small sum of money can stimulate business.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way."

"I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements which in August last were bust 40, hips 43½, waist 33½ inches which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen as I do not take any particular diet."

(Mrs.) S. R., London, England.
A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle—take as directed every morning. When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.
But remember this: to take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at McCoy Drug Co.—2 stores, or any drugstore in the world and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not feel justly satisfied you—why money back.

Spanish Village Man Seeks Gold Digging Contract

SAN CLEMENTE, July 21.—Dan Mulhaddon, president of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce, wants to become a placer gold miner. Mulhaddon has just returned from El Porte, Calif., where he inspected 130 acres of gold bearing land. If the deal goes through Mulhaddon will contract for the right mining.

"Everyone in the district is mining for gold," Mulhaddon said. "Men are making good wages panning for gold. In El Porte the grocery man told me that he weighed around $1200 worth of gold each week. The men spend most of this for food or clothing but at least they are making a living. I have panned gold myself and the color appears to warrant more intensive work on the 130 acres."

NEED OF CRIME PREVENTION IS TOLD TO CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, July 21.—Although law administration has improved since a comparatively short time ago when witches were burned at the stake, the administration of the criminal law in this country is still handled in a primitive way, it was stated by S. B. Kaufman, assistant district attorney of Orange county, at a luncheon meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club yesterday.

Kaufman emphasized the need of prevention of crime and criminals instead of merely convicting and punishing those who happen to be caught. So much crime is committed under modern conditions and so many are sent to jail that the jails are filled far beyond their capacity and the condition is becoming worse and worse, he said.

"The parole board is compelled, almost, to parole a large number of prisoners," Kaufman said. "Last month 400 more cots were added to the equipment at San Quentin, one of California's state penitentiaries, and the prisoners were sleeping in the dining rooms. The jails are filled with young men 18 to 25. I believe the average age at San Quentin is 22."

It is practically impossible to free a person charged with crime on the ground of insanity any more, especially if public opinion has been stirred up, he said, and the result was that many persons really insane are found guilty. Environment, heredity and the circumstances of each case (at present the economic depression being among these) are things that should be considered before a person is found guilty, and not afterwards, as at present, Kaufman said.

A new bullet, carrying two circular "wings," is said to attain a speed of 500 feet a second and to be able to pierce armor plate at 30 yards.

THESE PRICES PROVE

you don't have to buy low quality tires to get LOW PRICE

HERE'S something to think about if you want the biggest money's worth of comfort, safety and trouble-free mileage when you buy tires.

You don't have to buy low quality tires to get low price.

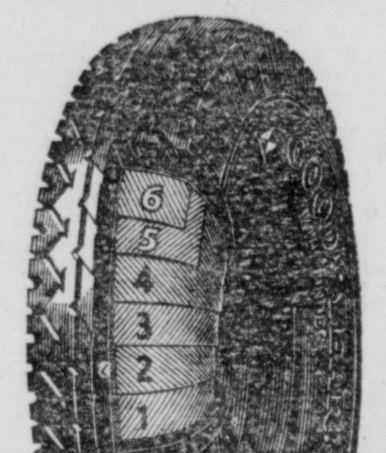

You don't have to take second-choice tires to save money — because FIRST-CHOICE costs no more.

Here are prices that prove it. Read them and remember, they buy real Goodyears. Big, stout, husky, tough Supertwist balloons with the name Goodyear Speedway on the sidewall, and Goodyear materials through and through.

For 17 years, motorists have voted Goodyear Tires the best on the market—because they have bought more Goodyear Tires than any other kind. Because Goodyear makes millions more tires than any other rubber manufacturer, it stands to reason Goodyear can build them better and better.

Take another look at the prices here, and ask yourself: Why buy any second-choice tire when FIRST-CHOICE costs no more!

SIX "PLIES"?

You can count six layers of cord here, but the first two under the tread in this tire (or in any so-called "six-ply" tire built this way) do not run from head to head. Some tire-makers count these as "plies," but they are really "breaker strips," so we call them that.

LOVE YOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Try Dan, pretty 19-year-old son of Dan Phillips, newspaper editor. She quarrels with her mother about Dan and then, taking advantage of Leap Year, asks Dan to marry her. They are married and Cherry for the first time finds it means to lack money. They are a cheap apartment and her mother with housework are disapproving. Dixie Shannon, movie girl of the News, is friendly with Cherry. She meets handsome Max Pearson, also on the News. After several weeks Cherry's mother becomes seriously ill. The girl called home and there is a reconciliation with her parents but pride will not allow her to accept financial aid from them. When Mrs. Pearson is stronger she and her husband leave for several months at a seashore.

CHAPTER XXXIII

Cherry drew back. "Don't Max!" she cried. "You must! Oh—how could you say such things?" "Why shouldn't I say them? They're true! I've wanted to tell you for a long time! Couldn't you guess how I cared, Cherry? Didn't you know it?"

The girl was on her feet. Pearson would have caught her to him but she pushed him away. "Don't Max!" she insisted. "Please—!" She stood there facing him. The dark eyes seemed almost black in her suddenly pale face. There was terror and amazement written on Cherry's face. All at once she whirled abruptly, walked to the window and stood with her back toward Pearson.

There was silence. They Cherry turned. "I thought you were Dan's friend," she said slowly. "I supposed you were all the things he thinks you are—loyal and honorable and—"

He stopped her. "You needn't say any more," Pearson said, rising. "I just lost my head for a few minutes. I hope you'll forget all about it—and don't worry that I'll bother you again."

Pearson's face was white, too. He left her, striding with long steps into the adjoining room. Miserably Cherry sat before the counter, resting her chin in her hands. What a night! Who could have foreseen that the outing on which she had set forth so eagerly a few hours before could end like this? She tried to tell herself these things were not true. Pearson had not made that wild declaration. She was not alone with him in an out of the way oil station miles from home with the rain coming down in torrents and the roads flooded. Oh, where was Dan? Why didn't he help her—?

Cherry went back to the counter. She could hear the rain beating a sharp tattoo on the window pane. The fire had gone out and the room was becoming cold. She picked up Max's raincoat and drew it around her. Then she sat for a long while staring out at the storm.

Pearson did not return. It was the other young man who finally appeared in the doorway. "Storm's letting up some," he announced. "He says if you're willing he'll try to make Scott Junction. You may be able to telephone from there."

Cherry hesitated. "Do you think it's safe?" "Well, the car seems to be all right. The road will be bad but by driving carefully and going slow you ought to be able to get there."

Cherry was on her feet. "I suppose we'd better try it," she said. "We certainly can't stay here."

Ten minutes later she and Pearson were in the car. The motor sputtered, then settled down to a steady purr and they were off in the darkness.

It was difficult driving. Pearson and Cherry both kept their eyes on the road ahead. It was still raining, the drops coming down in a steady drizzle. The road that had been caked with dust before the rain was slippery and treacherous now. Part of the time Cherry could see only a few feet ahead.

There was little conversation. Pearson was intent on his driving and the girl had no wish to divert him. Once he spoke of a noise in the mechanism of the car.

red with dressing, broccoli and a fruit salad. She noticed with disappointment that he did not seem to be eating.

"Is there anything wrong with the chops?" she asked. "No. They're all right. Cherry waited. After a moment she said, "You're not eating, Dan. What's the matter? Aren't you feeling well?"

"I'm feeling well enough," he assured her but he pushed back his chair. "Not hungry, I guess."

"Lord, Cherry!" he went on again in a burst of impatience, "don't you get sick of this sort of life? Aren't you fed up on it?"

"Why, Dan, what do you mean?" "The same old thing over and over. Day after day! I've had enough of it. I want to get out of this town!"

The girl was horrified. "But we can't, Dan! You don't—oh, you don't really mean what you're saying, do you?"

"Of course I mean it! What chance do I have in a town like this? I want to go to New York or Chicago. Some place where there's a little life! Where a fellow has a chance to get some place!"

Cherry said slowly, "You mean—you want to go without me?"

"Of course I mean it! What chance do I have in a town like this? I want to go to New York or Chicago. Some place where there's a little life! Where a fellow has a chance to get some place!"

"Of course I mean it! What chance do I have in a town like this? I want to go to New York or Chicago. Some place where there's a little life! Where a fellow has a chance to get some place!"

Cherry listened. Here was a new prospect of danger. "You don't think it's anything serious, do you?" she asked.

Pearson gave her a quick glance. "Not unless it gets worse," he answered shortly. His gaze returned to the road ahead.

How different he was from the eager, impetuous Max of a short time ago. Cherry, relieved, was nevertheless puzzled at the change. Max's manner was completely impersonal. He scarcely seemed to know she was there. Once or twice his absorption seemed almost rude.

She asked the time and was told it was almost 10 o'clock. After that they settled down to a long silence. It was Cherry who cried out at the first sign of lights.

"Look, Max!" she exclaimed. "Do you suppose that's Scott Junction? Oh, if we can only telephone—!"

It was the junction, a rural neighborhood including half a dozen stores, a garage and filling station. Pearson halted the car in front of the garage and went inside.

"There's a telephone," he announced when he returned a few minutes later. "Do you want to come inside? I've put a call in for Dan."

A tiny corner of the garage had been walled off as an office. Inside this dreary, dimly lighted place they waited. The operator reported Dan was not at the apartment. They called the News office.

Five minutes later Cherry was calling eagerly, "Is that you, Dan? Oh, I'm so glad to hear your voice! No, we're not at Willow Lake. The storm caught us and we missed the road. We're at a place called Scott Junction. Yes, of course, we're all right only I've worried! What? You didn't start out? Yes, dear, I can hear you. Yes, we're coming back. You'll wait at the office? All right. Wait a minute—Max wants to talk to you."

It was well after midnight when the mud splattered roadster drove up before the office of the Welling-ton News. The rain had stopped at last.

Dan Phillips pulled the door of the car open. "Cherry!" he exclaimed. "Lord, what a time you must have had!" He grinned from the girl to Pearson. "Say, you two certainly look as though you'd had a soaking."

"Climb in," said Pearson. "I think Cherry's anxious to get home."

They related their adventures during the brief ride. Cherry let Pearson do most of the talking. Phillips was sympathetic. He explained that the storm had started just as Beach and he were ready to set out.

"But how did you lose the way?" he asked.

"I guess I was thinking about the storm and took a wrong turn," Pearson explained. "I've only driven that road twice. It was a dumb thing to do, I'll admit. Cherry's half-frozen. She'd better get into some warm clothes and have something to drink."

"Come up for a while," Phillips urged. The car had stopped in front of the apartment.

"No thanks. Want to be getting on to my own place. I'll call you in the morning, Dan. Goodnight, Mrs. Phillips."

Cherry could not see Pearson's face in the darkness. She said, "Goodnight," and followed Dan up the steps.

It was so good to be home again! The little apartment had never been a more welcome sight. Cherry paused on the threshold as Dan snuggled on the living room floor.

"I was afraid we'd never get here," she said. "Oh, Dan, it was an awful trip!"

"Never mind about that now, honey. I was worried about you, too, until your call came. Better get into some other clothes. Is there anything in the place to eat? All I had was a couple of sandwiches."

Cherry discarded her rumpled dress for a warm negligee. She combed out her hair and got into comfortable slippers. When she returned to the living room the fragrant odor of coffee was in the air. Dan had a flame in the gas stove and was rummaging about a shelf that held supplies.

"There's rye bread," Cherry informed him, "and cheese and a can of sardines. Wait, you'd better let me get them—"

Cherry waited. After a moment she said, "You're not eating, Dan. What's the matter? Aren't you feeling well?"

"I'm feeling well enough," he assured her but he pushed back his chair. "Not hungry, I guess."

"I'm feeling well enough," he assured her but he pushed back his chair. "Not hungry, I guess."

"Lord, Cherry!" he went on again in a burst of impatience, "don't you get sick of this sort of life? Aren't you fed up on it?"

"Why, Dan, what do you mean?" "The same old thing over and over. Day after day! I've had enough of it. I want to get out of this town!"

The girl was horrified. "But we can't, Dan! You don't—oh, you don't really mean what you're saying, do you?"

"Of course I mean it! What chance do I have in a town like this? I want to go to New York or Chicago. Some place where there's a little life! Where a fellow has a chance to get some place!"

Cherry said slowly, "You mean—you want to go without me?"

We wish to mention, particularly, that in sharply reducing the price of our bread we have constantly improved the quality of all loaves. In this achievement we are happy because the result is highly pleasing to our increasing customers and very popular with our management.
Respectfully submitted,
THOS. LINDSAY, Manager Bakery Department.

CHARLES G. HARVEY
IN OUR advertising during the past few weeks, many of our headquarters and field executives have freely expressed themselves regarding their company and its policies. Although coffee is my primary interest, I should like to mention, publicly, my reaction to the genuine wholesomeness of the Safeway-Piggly Wiggly organization spirit. Any one identified with a company whose business ethics are so right—whose customer policies are so sound, and whose command of enthusiastic loyalty from its employees is complete—may rightfully consider his connection a distinct privilege and splendid business opportunity.
Respectfully submitted,

VOICES and SLIDES
WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Although the division of three-year-old thoroughbreds has done practically nothing about determining a champion for the year, horse racing hasn't been bothered particularly by it. The reason is Equipoise.

The speedy son of Pennant-Swirling, a failure as a three-year-old last year when he wasted a whole season in sickness, has come back bigger, stronger and faster than even his staunchest admirers ever pictured him.

"We're going to wait around Arlington long enough to win the big handicap July 23. Then Fred and I are heading east to look for more stake races to win."

If you were to gain an interview with the big chestnut colt that is the 1932 Equipoise, he'd probably hand out just such a line as that.

SUN BEAU'S MARK

It's true that Owner C. V. (Sonny) Whitney and Trainer Fred Hopkins are keeping him around Chicago now for the Arlington handicap. After that, their plans will send him east to Saratoga, perhaps back to Hawthorne, then east again to Havre de Grace, to Belmont, to Bowie and to Laurel. A stake or two will be waiting for him at each of those racing strips.

"We'll win 'em, even if the handicappers stick on a ton of lead in my saddle," Equipoise will tell you.

"That's right," Trainer Hopkins will say. "He can win 'em, all of them. If he wins only some of them, he will beat Sun Beau's world money winning record."

There seems to be some truth in that, too. Equipoise galloped off with $156,835 in winnings during his two-year-old campaign. Last year was a blank, but in piling up seven straight victories this season, he has boosted his total to something over $225,000. This figure puts the Whitney ace among the dozen highest American money winners.

Sun Beau's cash record stands at $276,744. A valuation of $64,000 was placed on the cups that he won, making his actual earnings $440,744. That's the figure Whitney and Hopkins want to see Equipoise beat.

OLD INJURY GONE

The ailment that halted Equipoise early last season as he was groomed for the Kentucky Derby was clothed in mystery for a time. After he ran last in the Chesapeake, the ailment was called azoturia, a kidney poisoning. On the morning of the Derby he showed up lame. Veterinary examination found a kidney stone, which was removed by a surgical operation. Hopkins believed the quarter crack was bothering him when he started the 1931 campaign.

Although approximately $1,000,000 had been bet on him in the Derby winter books, he was taken from the race at the last minute. It was a tough decision for Whitney to make. But the wonders Hopkins has worked with the big colt since then have more than made up for that one disappointment.

MARSHALL FAVORITE IN S. A. MAT GO
Josephine Cruickshank Beats Mrs. Harper

UPSET PLACES S. A. GIRL IN ESSEX FINALS

MANCHESTER, BY THE SEA, Mass., July 21.—(UP)—Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, Calif., first seeded, scored an upset in the semi-finals of the invitation women's tennis tournament at the Essex Country club here today when she defeated Mrs. Lawrence Harper of Oakland, Calif., first seeded and third ranking National player in three hard sets, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

After Miss Cruickshank had evened the set score, Mrs. Harper appeared to tire and netted many of her shots. Miss Cruickshank scored several service aces and her placements were especially accurate.

MANCHESTER, BY THE SEA, Mass., July 21.—(INS)—The semi-finals of the Essex Country club's women's invitation tournament today had Mrs. L. A. Harper of San Francisco, top seeded, meeting Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, Calif., and Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles, opposite of Mrs. Marjorie Merrill Painter of Brookline.

Mrs. Harper eliminated Marjorie Sachs of Cambridge, 6-1, 6-3, in a quarter-final match, while Miss Cruickshank, the fifth seeded player, won a hard three setter from Mae Ceurvorci of Wichita, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

In the lower quarter finals Miss Babcock, who last week sprang a big surprise in the Longwood tournament by defeating Mrs. Painter, defeated Miss Mianne Palfrey of Brookline, 6-3, 6-0.

Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia had a stop placed on her brilliant play this season when she was eliminated by Mrs. Painter in straight sets of 7-5, 6-3. Mrs. Van Ryn captured the single, and doubles titles at Longwood last week.

Some snappy doubles play was looked for in the semi-finals when the Palfrey sisters of Brookline, Sarah and Mianne, meet Mrs. Painter and Mrs. Harper in the upper half while Mrs. Van Ryn and Miss Cruickshank oppose Virginia Rice of Brookline and Miss Babcock in the lower half.

U. S. ATHLETES REACH OLYMPIC VILLAGE CAMP

BY GEORGE H. BEALE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(UP)—Described by their coach as mentally fatigued and physically tired, the track and field team on which the United States ponds its hopes for victory in the 1932 Olympic Games arrived here today from Palo Alto, where the final trials were held last Saturday.

The 50 athletes, including Ralph Metcalfe, Negro sprint star, and Bill Carr, the sensational 400 meter entry from the University of Pennsylvania, displayed the typical carefree attitude of the American athlete, but their enthusiasm was not shared by Head Coach Lawson Robertson.

Ben Eastman, Stanford's big middle distance runner, who qualified second to Carr in the final of the 400 meter, did not arrive with the team. He was left in Palo Alto to recover from a cold and was expected to join the group tomorrow.

Hallowell, of Harvard, the 1500 meter star, also was suffering from a cold. He spent several days in a hospital but at present is recovering rapidly. He was with the team this morning.

"On the whole the men are mentally fatigued and physically tired," Robertson said. "There is no doubt that the American Olympic tryouts are too strenuous. But as the tryouts rank in importance with the Games, I do not know what can be done about it."

Coch Robertson said most of the athletes had been at the peak of competition for several months and as a result some of them were stale.

Light practice only was the order issued by Robertson as the team left the train and entered automobiles for Olympic Village, where almost 1000 foreign athletes and a few Americans already were quartered.

Team To Practice Sunday
The men will make up this afternoon and will take only light drills in their specialties until Sunday when the training will become more intensive, Robertson said.

Robertson predicted that "our boys in the shotput and Carr and Eastman in the 400 meter run should offer all the color and spectacular competition that one could expect."

Carr, a short, stocky, dark-complexioned youth, said he believes Eastman and Rampling of Great Britain will give him his greatest competition in the Olympic 400-meter race.

He added that his first race against Eastman in the I. C. 4A was much harder than the first one meeting in the Olympic trials.

Berger of Holland and Jonath of Germany, will give the American sprinters the most trouble, in the opinion of George Simpson of Ohio, America's third sprinter.

SPORT BULLETINS

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(UP)—Albie Booth, star Yale halfback of last fall, will not play in the East-West Olympic football game, it was said today by coaches of Harvard-Yale-Princeton squad.

"OUT A WINDOW HE WILL GO"

Don't be frightened, children. It looks horrible but isn't. It's just Everett Marshall, the wrestler, about to throw one of his little playmates out the window or up against a building or over the Orange county courthouse, and Marshall's sparring pals are used to that sort of treatment. Marshall wrestles Barney Ostopovitch at the Santa Ana Bowl tonight.

FINAL QUARTER OF NIGHT BALL BEGINS FRIDAY

The fourth and final round of 1932 National Night league baseball will be hailed up for inspection tomorrow night, with games scheduled at Santa Ana, Anaheim, Long Beach and Whittier.

Torrance, undoubtedly the most improved club of the second half, a team now tied with the Stars for third place, will be seen at Santa Ana's Bowl. In the throes of a most discouraging battling out of camp, the worst that has happened the outfit in years, Santa Ana will be rated no better state.

Light practice only was the order issued by Robertson as the team left the train and entered automobiles for Olympic Village, where almost 1000 foreign athletes and a few Americans already were quartered.

L. A. OLYMPICS' SUCCESS SURE: STATE PRAISED

By FRANK G. MENKE
(I. N. E. Sports Editor)

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(INS)—The something which has been termed "The Grand Olympic Flop" now seems destined to go roaring down the gutches of time as a colossal success.

The East may be financially apathetic to what the girls and boys of athletic skill will do in these parts between July 30 and Aug. 16th. The Middle West and the South may assume a "What of it?" air. But California and way stations are rallying in a way that is astonishing and figures compiled to date indicate that at least 1,250,000 persons will pay close to $1,500,000 to gaze upon the gladiators of the world as they sport under California skies.

Depression Nixed Games
In the beginning of things—eleven years ago when the site award was made to Los Angeles—the extravaganza promised to be the most successful and certainly the most glamorous in all history. But then came an economic crisis which boded ill for all such ideas and the aspect was bleak. But all those gloomy alterations of the original picture have been changed back to rose-tints and the Tenth Olympiad of modern times will go over with a yip-yipping hurrah.

With something like 800 homebred and foreign athletes encamped now in the quaint but magnificent Olympic Village, and with hundreds more rolling westward, this Olympiad perhaps will establish an all-time record for the number of contestants, events, attendance and receipts, and all this right before the eyes of those who scoffed "Fizzle."

The American Olympic Committee, harassed through many months by the fear that it would not be able to raise sufficient funds to defray expenses of shipping and caring for the U. S. A. squad, smiles happily smiling these particular days. Its unflinching efforts seem to have won success out of what seemed to be failure and it will make whatever gains are necessary.

L. A. Assets Permanent
The city of Los Angeles, which appropriated a $1,000,000 bond issue to insure the Olympics for this city, has spent the money in various ways—but all of them for permanent civic assets. Its cash outlay has been heavy, of course, but when the Olympics are done the city not only will have the glory of having put in the greatest athletic show of all time, but will have new property values that will practically represent the appropriation for bonds.

The merchants of the city will be almost immeasurably benefited. It is estimated now that there will be at least 400,000 visitors here for the Games. That each will spend at least $125 within the confines of the periphery, all of which would add about $50,000,000 to the treasury of hotels, restaurants, taxicab corporations, oil and gas companies and tradesmen of other kind that cater to the tourist trade.

California, as a state, floated a $1,000,000 bond issue guaranteed all other expenses beyond that sum to bring the Olympiad here. Since 1924 its Olympiad organization has been functioning. During that time it has spent money lavishly in the promotion of the project. It built the Olympic Village at a cost around $300,000; it enlarged the stadium and went to every extreme to make this affair greater than the greatest.

State Will Get Money Back
Success has come—at a cost of better than $2,000,000. But California will get back a huge part of that money. The arrangement provides that the state is to take the receipts. Inasmuch as a total crowd of around 1,500,000 is expected to witness all of the contests and that the average head will be at least $1, this means that the state will get a return of $1,500,000 on its $2,000,000 outlay, and thus expend merely $500,000 for the $50,000,000 worth of worldwide publicity which it shall receive.

And so this something, regarded elsewhere as a "calamity" is on the eve of developing into a majestic success.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(INS)—Primo Carnera, Italian man-mountain, today held his second knockout victory over Jack Gross, Philadelphia heavyweight.

The behemoth from Italy stowed away his opponent in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round battle before 10,000 customers last night.

SPANGLER ASCOT VICTOR
LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(UP)—Lester Spangler, Los Angeles, won the 50-lap feature automobile race at Ascot Speedway last night after holding an early lead throughout the contest.

Merle Youel's brilliant pitching, a two-hit classic which approached the best performance of the Bowl season, had today kept MacMillan Gasoline on top of the Santa Ana City League's second half, still undefeated.

Youel blanked Weber's bakery, 8 to 0, for MacMillan Gasoline's fourth successive victory last night. There was never any doubt about the outcome after the third inning when the MacMillans got to Nelson, Weber pitcher, for six runs. Bacon and Finley gathered the only bingles off Youel.

J. C. Penney company remained a close pursuer of the league-leading MacMillans by vanquishing the Santa Ana Elks, 3 to 3, in the other end of the doubleheader. This one was a ball game until the fifth when the Penneys knocked Sullivan out of the box with a flurry of six runs.

There will be no City League games tonight or tomorrow, but Red and White Stores take on the Holy Name society in a postponed contest Saturday, at 7:30 P. M.

Two best two-out-of-three-fall features and a one-fall, 30-minute time limit opener also are programmed.

"Bull" Hefner, 235-pound Texas rougher faces Charlie Santen, 230-pound Missouri strong-boy in the third bout. Santen boasts a draw with Marshall and should give the rough Hefner a difficult evening.

Wladek Zbyszko, veteran Polish mat star, and former heavyweight champion of the world clashes with Harry Ekizian, 205-pound former All-Navy champion in the first three-fall match.

The powerful Hardy Kruskamp, flying tackle exponent and Karl Davis mix in the opening bout.

EV DEPENDS ON AIRPLANE SPIN TO BRING WIN

Principals of Santa Ana's first and most pretentious outdoor wrestling match—Everett Marshall, Coloradoan, and Barney Ostopovitch, giant Lithuanian champion—marked time today awaiting the going that will send them on their way in a three-fall finish battle tonight at the Santa Ana bowl.

Marshall, one of the most formidable title threats in the wrestling game and the man who came within a fall of winning the world's heavyweight championship from Gus Sonnenberg in the biggest open air wrestling match ever held in California, will probably enter the ring favored to win a close match.

Ostopovitch is regarded as the most brilliant heavyweights to invade United States since Mah-mout, and a powerful fellow constructed physically along the same lines as the late Hackenschmidt, "Russian Lion" of Frank Gotch's day.

Claims Win Over Lewis
Barney claims as one of his greatest feats, two falls scored at the expense of "Strangler" Lewis, former champion. Barney's powerful flying tackles caught Lewis midships and the "Strangler" dropped to the canvas-covered ring helpless.

In meeting Marshall, however, Ostopovitch is facing a young, strong, powerful 220-pounder, whose ring generalship and knowledge of holds and leverage measure up to any title claimant in the business. Marshall boasts victories over Lewis, DeGlane, Lutze, Cantowine and others.

Marshall believes in ending matters as quickly as possible—he believes the better way to win is to smash into a foe with a series of punishing holds and to keep applying them until his opponent is so weakened that a finish hold can be applied with ease.

Undoubtedly Marshall will depend a great deal on his celebrated "airplane spin" to bring about victory while Ostopovitch plans to use the "flying tackle" as his main offensive weapon.

Ring, Seats Installed
Workmen erected the portable ring procured from Hollywood Legion stadium last night, and 500 ringside seats were installed early today.

Approximately 3000 grandstand and 2000 bleacher seats will be available.

Wrestling fans are coming from Oceanside, Laguna, Long Beach, Fullerton, Wilmington, San Pedro, Compton, Anaheim, Orange, Huntington Beach, Newport, Balboa and as far north as Sausalito, according to Promoter Elmer Willson.

Although Don McDonald, Long Beach referee, is supposedly on the suspended list, the state athletic commission has failed to notify Promoter Willson that McDonald will be unavailable. Should a last minute notification be made, in all probability Col. Ted Hopkins will handle the bouts.

Two best two-out-of-three-fall features and a one-fall, 30-minute time limit opener also are programmed.

LETTER TELLS OF SUFFERING
IN WAR AREA

ORANGE, July 21.—Miss Grace Leitz, of El Modena, returned missionary from China, received some interesting letters recently which tell of the conditions in China after the Japanese troops passed through and after engagements between them and the Chinese. The letter, written by Ethel M. Naylor, gives vivid descriptions of the battlefields and war-torn countryside.

Miss Naylor writes that in company with a group of fellow missionaries she traveled with a pass procured through the Shanghai Municipal Council. The writer stated: "We started in a taxi from the Missions building out to Kiangwan and I suppose that in all that distance we saw not more than eight or 10 Chinese and these were farmer folks. Fields usually dotted with laborers were deserted, though wheat and green vegetables were growing. The houses along the way with only rare exceptions were completely razed or were ruins of jagged walls with gaping holes and charred rafters."

School Destroyed
"We stopped first at the Women's Bible Training school, a union institution newly built. The buildings were completely ruined. Only piles of broken stone and brick to tell where they stood. The faculty building was in a little better shape but the home had been looted bare of all its furnishings."

"As we drove into Kiangwan village, it becomes difficult to write what we saw. What words are there to describe a destruction so complete? It was just a little dead city, broken, violated, murdered—innocent! When we first witnessed the destruction it had sought to find some little corner where alone I might cry and swallow that big lump that stuck in my throat. But as we came into Kiangwan it was different. There weren't any tears in my eyes and the lump that had stuck in my throat seemed to have gone down and settled like a heavy weight on my heart. A silence like the silence which falls over people in the presence of the dead, fell on us all. We didn't talk. We couldn't. There was nothing one could say. We were sort of numbed with the extent and completeness of the desolation. We met occasional groups of people who like ourselves were looking at the ghastly price of glory."

Tells of Suffering
The mission worker through her letters brings a vivid picture of the suffering which follows in the wake of war and she tells of one time during the past months when 100 tiny babies were fed on bean soup at a cost of 36 cents a day for the entire number. Miss Naylor concludes her letter by saying, "What a cost in human suffering, to say nothing of the loss of property in the case of that flag with a red sun on a white field should fly in the place of a blue sun on a red and white field. We've seen the desolated homes and we've fed rice to the hungry folks who were able to get away before their homes were destroyed. Since seeing what I have seen the past year, I loathe war with a new intensity and with new determination I throw myself into the cause which shall make future wars impossible."

The Whole Trend is toward a Milder Cigarette

Do you remember the days when you first started to smoke?

ALL CIGARETTES tasted somewhat alike to you, but after a while you noticed that some cigarettes were decidedly stronger than others... Remember?

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. There is no argument about that. Their mildness is a feature as distinctive as their package or their trade mark.

Their tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient ageing and curing make them milder still.

Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—but not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

In this nerve-racking time, smokers—men and women—are showing a decided preference for milder cigarettes.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."

JAIL SENTENCE IS METED OUT TO YOUNGCHILD

Ninety days in the county jail on a reckless driving charge was the sentence given Louis Youngchild, Anaheim man, after two separate counts of manslaughter which had been filed against him in connection with the deaths of two Corona youths as a result of an accident, were dismissed by Judge C. K. Scovel in superior court yesterday after a hung jury had been dismissed the previous night.

The jury which heard the evidence in the case went out at 1:50 p. m. Tuesday and was dismissed at 11:10 p. m. after it had failed to agree on a verdict. It was reported that the jury stood seven to five for acquittal on the manslaughter charges.

Youngchild was charged with two separate counts of manslaughter after riding struck the side of Youngchild's car when he was turning a corner. Youngchild had been charged with being drunk at the time of the accident and of failing to hold out his hand when he made the turn, but no evidence was presented in court to prove he was drunk or failed to signal, according to court officials.

Yesterday Harold McCabe, deputy district attorney who handled the prosecution of the case, and T. L. McPadden, defense attorney, agreed to the changing of the charges to reckless driving. The defendant waived time for pronouncement of judgment and was sent to the county jail for 90 days.

George McAdoo, Orange man, charged with burglary and robbery in connection with the stealing of 35 cases of cigarettes from the Smart and Final Wholesale Grocery company here in May, was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday, because his brother changed his story.

Ed McAdoo and Marion Ekroast both had pleaded guilty to second degree burglary in connection with the case and are serving sentences in the county jail. At their preliminary examination, Ed McAdoo testified that George had nothing to do with the robbery. Today he changed that testimony and declared that his brother was a party to it.

John Ragan and George McAdoo were night workers at the Smart and Final store at the time the holdup and robbery was staged. It was at this time that police declare that Ed McAdoo and Ekroast were the holdup men and that George McAdoo let them in the place.

Plans For New Industry Here Progressing Favorably

WOULD UTILIZE OLD PLANT ON EAST FIRST ST. HEALTH WORK WITH CHILDREN IS REVIEWED

Plans to take over the old Kauffman Spot-Light factory and property, with a 200-foot frontage on East First street, as a manufacturing plant for a large spot-light factory which is said to be desirous of locating in Santa Ana, were reported progressing favorably today by George A. Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Included in a group of Santa Anans who are interested in securing this plant for Santa Ana are: C. S. Crookshank, W. D. Ranney, Chas. E. Walker, John A. Cranston and Berle E. Morthland. It is learned.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce through its officials has been in almost daily conference for the past few weeks, with officials of a manufacturing concern of nine years established business, relative to transferring their manufacturing plant from its present location to Santa Ana.

The manufacturing concern referred to produces a complete line of illumination for automobile and marine equipment, also, special colored lenses for theater flood lighting, and railroad signal lighting. The organization is now negotiating with railroad officials for the installation of switch and semaphore lighting.

One of the pre-eminent outstanding products of the company is a process for colored automobile headlight lenses, it is reported. The operation produces a beautiful golden amber shade which is guaranteed to fill the want of six outstanding necessities in the field of automobile illumination. (a) Non-glare, (b) non-blinding, (c) no eye strain, (d) added road safety, (e) fog penetration, (f) visibility in rain, snow and smoke.

According to those interested in the project location of the factory here will mean advertising Santa Ana to the entire world, as the organization already has export contacts and is shipping merchandise to Canada, Philippines, China, Australia, New Zealand, Bolivia, Peru, France, Germany, England, Switzerland and Belgium.

Picnics and Reunions

ILLINOIS

Former residents of Illinois will hold their annual picnic rally at Bixby park, Long Beach, all day, Saturday, July 23, with basket dinners at noon. President Henry J. Brubaker will offer a splendid program. County registers will be open all day. Every "Sucker" of the Illinois brand is invited. Plans are completed to care for more than 10,000 picnickers.

INDIANA

The Indiana State society will hold its annual summer picnic reunion all day Saturday, July 23 in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. A fine program will follow the basket dinner hour and will include a group of 25 musicians and dancers. The county registers will be open all day. A special invitation goes to all visiting Hoosiers.

W.C.T.U. Leaders Talbert Speakers

TALBERT, July 21.—County officers of the W. C. T. U. spoke at the recent meeting of the organization at the Methodist Episcopal church, south, in Talbert. Speakers were Mrs. Cora Hale, of Fullerton, county president of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Harper, an officer from Garden Grove, and the Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the First Methodist church of Garden Grove. Mrs. Albert Farnsworth, president of the local W. C. T. U. gave a report.

Children Aided

It has continued 261 child health centers for children of preschool age, where 4294 children have received advice to help keep the children healthy and free from serious illness. Two thousand one hundred fifty-four physical defects were found among 568 of these children and of these defects 778 are known to have been corrected. In addition to this clinic service, 1609 home visits have been made in the interests of child hygiene. All this work is in addition to the routine school health work and community sanitation procedures which, of course, also have a direct beneficial bearing upon the health of the child.

This type of child welfare work, which is always valuable, has an especial importance as an economy measure at this time. It helps to lighten the heavy load being carried by the county clinic and hospital and, in addition, by preventing illness in his family, it gives the wage earner a better chance to carry his own financial burden without having to appeal to county and private charity for help.

Program Held By Capistrano Woman's Club

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 21.—An interesting meeting was held Tuesday by the Capistrano Woman's club. Mrs. E. M. Nise, president of the club, presided, and following the business session turned the entertainment features over to Mrs. Roy Tyler, program chairman.

Luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock by Mesdames Doris Bath and Genevieve Bottger, hostesses for the day, after which the business meeting was held. CHANGES IN ELECTORAL POWER PICTURED

In 32 of the 48 states, the ballots which Mr. and Mrs. Voter will cast for President next November will differ in value from those of four years ago. For the Congressional reapportionment based on the 1930 census reduced the number of Congressmen in 21 states and increased the number in 11 others, making corresponding gains and losses in the electoral vote of those states. The above map shows the apportionment of electors for 1932 together with gains or losses from 1928 figures. In California, where the number of electors was increased from 13 to 22, each ballot cast at the polls next November will count almost twice as much in the final electoral college result as in 1928. Each state has as many votes in the electoral college as it has Senators and Representatives.

COUNTY ARTIST ON CONCERT TOUR IN CANADA SAYS BOOZE MAKES CONDITIONS WORSE

Refuting claims of wet interests that prohibition is to blame for the present economic conditions and stating that the Canadian people do not approve of liquor, an interesting letter has been sent by Vladimir Lenski, widely known Orange county violinist, from Winnipeg, Canada, to a friend in Costa Mesa.

Lenski has been making a comparison as every country. I write to you to show that prohibition is the cause of the trouble in our country and to bring back the booze is only to make matters far worse.

Lenski's letter in part, follows: "Liquor, as you know is sold in this wonderful country. Some feel at home that prohibition is the cause of hard times; this is not so. In many cities here half the population is supported by charity or government dole. Unemployment is terrible. A big demonstration at Vancouver resulted in the same clash with police—injuries, etc. It is no different. The booze does not help—it makes things worse.

"The banks here are secure—no failures, but plenty of robberies. People beg me for meals. The Canadian people are a marvelous people. They do not approve of booze. They hope that the U. S. will stick to prohibition. They say it was not kept long enough when they had it here; that the U. S. will win if she will stand by.

"I do not write this to find the undesirable conditions in Canada. They are undergoing the same de-

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL
Extra Time for Home and Garden!

The proposed five-day week might work out splendidly for the home-owner. Just think of all the clever things one could do for the garden!

Fences, for one thing, made of pickets, or if saplings are convenient in quantity, one could have the garden fenced in that way. Posts, top and bottom rails, are first erected, then saplings, all of a size, are cut and nailed on, and marked from post to post to form a gentle curve. Each sapling top is sawed to this measuring point... a lot of work, but a joy when completed!

The picket fence if built in leisure time would cost only the lumber. Of course, it needs paint to be good looking and to preserve the wood, but white washing it is the clever and inexpensive way.

A pint of varnish added to a big bucket of white wash will give it in great degree the qualities of paint, and it will withstand all kinds of weather.

A clever way to screen off an unpleasant vista is to put in a raspberry planting. Well rooted bushes can be transplanted even now if well watered, and next year should be head-high and bearing fruit.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Scallop of Crab and Noodles
1 package of broad noodles
1 pound flaked crab meat
1 1/2 cup melted butter
2 cups rich milk
1 beaten egg
salt and pepper
cracker crumbs for top

Of course, if you enjoy work, you might make your own noodles, but the quick and sensible way is to buy them, so that is what we'll use for the scallop.

Cook the noodles 15 minutes in salted boiling water, drain and rinse with hot water to dislodge loosen starch.

Have a shallow baking dish buttered, spread a thin layer of cooked noodles in the bottom, cover with flaked crab, and so on until the two are used up and the dish two-thirds full.

Beat the milk, add the butter and beaten egg to it and pour over the crab and noodles. Strew cracker crumbs over top, dot with bits of butter, and bake 30 minutes in medium oven.

Serve this dish with a crisp salad and a dessert for a hot weather supper.

This crab dish, serving six, has a caloric total of some 1860. The energy makers account for the major part of this total, so let the salad be a leafy green one and the dessert a fresh fruit served without cream and just a little sugar.

Growing Old Gracefully
Let's have a serious talk about ways and means of meeting middle age and enjoying it. I can't come to you, nor you to me, in person, but we can get together via the weekly leaflet route and discuss this subject. Suppose you come to my house? To get there, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll do the rest.

Friday's recipe will be Popovers.
ANN MEREDITH.

A large group of distinguished guests, including officers prominent in the order, were among the 100 Beaucant members from the several Southern California assemblies congregating at the Masonic temple in this city yesterday to accept the hospitality of the Santa Ana Assembly No. 61, of the Social Order of Beaucant.

Santa Ana hostesses had been at considerable pains to plan luncheon appointments of a type appropriate to the order and worthy of the occasion, and the results of their efforts won flattering comment from their guests.

Table decorations, as well as details of the menu were carried out in red, white and black. Beaucant colors, and were prepared by Mrs. L. L. Whitson, with the assistance of Mrs. W. Verne Whitson who made the favors, and Mrs. A. R. Muller, chairman of the luncheon committee. These women had further aid from Mesdames J. W. McCormac, P. L. Toole, B. E. Dawson, J. H. Tompkins, J. Various candidates for city, county and state offices will have an opportunity to state their views at a meeting to be held in this city under the auspices of the Santa Ana League of Women Voters in August, according to plans laid by the women yesterday.

HERE TOMORROW

David Manners and Ann Dvorak in "Stranger in Town," which stars Chic Sale and a splendid cast showing at the Fox Broadway theater, starting tomorrow.

'ARROWSMITH' ENDS RUN HERE TONIGHT

Admirers of Ronald Colman will have their first opportunity to see him playing the role of an American hero in "Arrowsmith," Samuel Goldwyn's pictureization of the novel by Sinclair Lewis, which closes tonight at Walker's State theater.

In his long and successful picture career, he has played Frenchmen, Dutchmen, Englishmen, Italians and Spaniards, but never Americans until he took up the "Arrowsmith" role of the gallant young doctor fighting against ignorance and disease.

Supporting him are such famous stage names as Helen Hayes, Richard Bennett and A. E. Anson. John Ford directed the picture, which was adapted to the screen by Sidney Howard.

HAGARA ENDS S. A. ENGAGEMENT TODAY

Mlle. Evelyn Hagara, famous operatic contralto, not only surprised, but greatly pleased a large audience in her initial Santa Ana appearance at the Fox West Coast theater last night.

Probably one of the greatest singers ever to appear here, her engagement which ends tonight can certainly be called one of the outstanding theatrical events of the year.

Capable of singing three minutes in one breath, her rich voice was highly praised by last night's audience. She will appear for the last time tonight at 9 o'clock.

Portraying a spirited young divorcee of today, Elisea Landi is seen in her truest and most human Americanized role in "The Woman in Room 13," Fox emotional drama currently playing at the Fox West Coast theater.

Ralph Bellamy, Neil Hamilton, Myrna Loy, Gilbert Roland and many others are seen in the supporting cast of the picture which was directed by Henry King.

A tiny garden beetle found in the eastern United States raises its own food in the form of fungus gardens.

CHIC SALE IN FUN SHOW AT FOX BROADWAY

A fine job of casting, which speaks excellent entertainment, is evident in the list of players in "Stranger in Town," which comes to the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow, with "Chic" Sale, Ann Dvorak, David Manners, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton in the leading roles.

This story of competition between "Chic" country store and a chain store which opens in his town affords him an excellent opportunity to deliver the finest characterization he has yet done on the screen. His is a fighting role—a fight of a pioneer against two irresistible forces.

For the first time in his career, Sale will be seen as he really appears off-screen, minus whiskers and white wig. The opening sequences of "Stranger in Town" show him in the covered wagon days as a young man when he starts the town which later supports his general store, and in which he becomes the leading citizen.

'GRAND HOTEL' ENDS SANTA ANA SHOWING

Lionel Barrymore himself devised the unusually elaborate makeup he wears as Kringle in "Grand Hotel." Matron Goldwyn-Mayer's ambitious screen production of Vicki Baum's novel and now playing at the Broadway theater.

The disguise is one of the most painstaking worn by the elder Barrymore in several years.

On the screen "Grand Hotel" retains all the glamour and fascinating action of the stage play. The episodic plot unfolds in a manner faithful to the original play. Nothing is missing that could possibly be included in the film, and the result is technical and artistic perfection.

The final two performances of "Grand Hotel" will be given this afternoon and tonight. All seats are reserved. The attraction will not be seen again in Orange county during the current season.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—DRAWINGS BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

The Tinkles felt they'd never had such tasty food and they were glad to sit right down and eat it as was Coppy dished it out. "Eat all you can," the owner said. "Please don't be bashful. Go ahead!" This made the youngsters feel that he was quite a fine old scout.

"This is the finest stew that I have had," said Scouty, with a sigh. "I only wish it didn't make me feel full up so soon."

"I've only eaten one big bowl, but can't eat more, to save my soul. If there is any left, save it until tomorrow noon."

The circus owner smiled and said, "Oh, we'll have something else instead. I hope you're not too full up, son, to eat some peach ice cream."

Then Scouty jumped and waved his hat and said, "Oh, I'll find room for that. This dandy meal you're serving us is almost like a dream."

It wasn't very long until each

Tinymites had had his fill and then fired Duncy said, "I think I'll take a little nap."

"Me, too," cried Windy. "Yes, siree. Let's cuddle 'neath that great big tree." And when they dropped, wee Duncy put his head in Windy's lap.

They slept for 'bout an hour or so. Then Scouty jumped and shouted, "Oh! Here comes a very pretty horse. He's from the wild west tent."

"I've seen him kick his feet up high, but even so, I'd like to try to ride on him." Then right up to the fine horse they all went.

The man who led the horse was kind. Said he, "Well, son, I do not mind if you go for a little ride. Be sure and hang on tight."

So Scouty scrambled into place. At first the horse began to buck. This filled the lad with fright.

GROCERY STOCK DISCOVERED IN LA HABRA HOME

LA HABRA, July 21.—Mrs. Gladys Kinyers was questioned in La Habra Wednesday afternoon by Deputy District Attorney Leo Fris, concerning a quantity of groceries stored in her home on Magnolia avenue, just outside the city limits of La Habra.

Mrs. Kinyers' husband, W. A. Kinyers, was in court in Orange Wednesday morning, charged with the theft of a dress and a suit from Orange and was found guilty and sentenced to 90 days in jail. He gave his name as L. G. Scott, in the court there.

The Kinyers, who moved to La Habra recently from Garden Grove, are accused of taking grocery orders from parked autos. Among the large stock of groceries which Fris saw there were 11 pounds of butter and oleomargarine, 12 pounds of coffee and a quantity of unground coffee, three kinds of baking powder and 50 pounds of sugar. In the shed at the rear of the house was a large trunk packed with groceries. After questioning the woman and obtaining from her a list of as many places, where groceries were taken, as she could remember, he released her, attaching no responsibility to her for the theft.

Constable Tremaine went to the home and brought the food stuffs to the city hall, where they will be held for identification of those who have filed complaints. The couple was arrested in La Habra Tuesday evening by Officer Donecq.

JUNK DEALERS BUY NEWPORT OIL REFINERY

NEWPORT BEACH, July 21.—The plant of the Orange County Refinery was sold at auction in a bankrupt sale Wednesday. Various junk dealers bought the entire plant in parcels and it is expected they will remove their purchases very soon.

The refinery was erected five years ago when heavy oil was found here. Road oil, roofing and various asphaltum products were thus converted from the heavy oil. Many protests were made by residents of West Newport to the city council when offensive odors resulting from the refining process permeated the air, and removal of the plant was asked. The refinery had been given a permit, so nothing could be done, the plant being in the industrial zone. At one time this plant furnished employment for as many as 30 men.

At this time there is nothing definite as to the future operation of the oil wells on the lease.

CYPRESS GROUP HITS SALARIES PAID TEACHERS

CYPRESS, July 21.—A stormy session of the board of school trustees was held at the school this week, with a group of 16 taxpayers present demanding that the salaries of teachers be reduced.

Sam Miller, president of the board, called the meeting to order and asked for objections. Mrs. Arnold Gaunt, who acted as spokesman for a group of taxpayers, wanted to know why there was an increase in the teachers' salaries over the amount expended in the past school year. She pointed out that the budget called for $9,430, where, as $9,227 was used for that purpose last year. She said that the group she was representing thought that, in view of present conditions, the salaries of teachers ought to be cut in accordance with those of people in other walks of life.

Miller explained that all the salaries had remained the same, but that the board had deemed it necessary to have at least one man teacher in the school and that it was necessary to pay a man more money. He said that the other salaries were not cut because, for the past several years, the salaries of the teachers in the Cypress school were below the average throughout the county and that by maintaining the same scale, it would put this school on a par with the reduced rates in the other schools in the county.

Mrs. Gaunt then moved that the salaries of the two highest paid teachers be cut 20 per cent and the others be cut two per cent. This motion was seconded by Mr. Gaunt. In the discussion that followed there was a great deal of confusion. Mrs. Gaunt asserted that the meetings in which the contracts were signed were not held in accordance with rules governing such meetings and that therefore they were not legal and that likewise the contracts were void.

After a long discussion, the taxpayers voted to cut the salaries and this was carried unanimously. The trustees explained that they were unable to reduce salaries of the teachers as the contracts had already been signed, so the budget of $9,430 will stand.

The teachers whose salaries the taxpayers sought to reduce 20 per cent are Mrs. Tilo Calder, principal, and Mrs. Juliet Morris, both tenure teachers. The other instructors are Eloise Kirk, Alice Remington, Alfred Jones and Miss A. Bailey.

THE COMING WET AND DRY CAMPAIGN

There is no question about it, the wets think they have put the dries on the defensive. There is a decided feeling on the part of some erstwhile dries that the tide is running against the Eighteenth amendment. The wets have the platforms of the parties in their favor, and they have the press very largely with them. Besides, they have a comfortable barrel for campaigning. For some reason not quite explainable, there is a large number of men of great wealth who are ready to finance the wet movement liberally.

But there is one phase of the matter which the wets have not counted upon, and of which the dries may not be as conscious as they ought to be. The dries can wage a vigorous campaign with very much less money than the wets. It is a well-known fact that most of the people who are shouting for repeal are not ready to stake a nickel for their convictions on the matter. The common man who favors the wet cause will shout a bit, but when it comes to making sacrifices of any kind he is not numerous. Were it not for the money that is given by a comparatively few men on the wet side, there would not be so much of a campaign after all. The wets have to pay liberally for all their advertising, and we suspect that there are more takers than givers among them.

With the dries this is very different. The dries have that militant body of women who belong to the W. C. T. U. who labor unceasingly for the dry cause. Their time, their energy, and their money is ready at all times. In addition the dry cause has the churches behind it. Not all churches, to be sure, and not all ministers. But scarcely any churches and ministers are in the opposition. The church is the mightiest propaganda force in this country. Its pulpits are sought by every one who has a cause to exploit or a movement to further. Agencies of all descriptions seek the support of the ministers of the churches for propaganda of one kind and another. The dry cause has that support without even the asking. It is given freely, positively and without stint.

This is something to be considered when the campaign is finally on. Millions of people of the country assemble in the churches. There they are to be reached. The newspaper advertisements reach many, but the printed page does not impress like the spoken voice. Here lies the hope of the dries when the campaign is on. And we believe that it is a hope that is grounded in solid facts which none will dispute, and most will recognize.

REPUBLICAN GOLFERS LOSE

The Republicans cannot get over a rage at Garner. That afternoon when Rainey, Democratic House leader, declared there would be no vote on the publicity on the loans part of the relief bill, many of the Republicans went out to play golf. Democrats had been tipped off, so the Republicans say, to stay on the job. A vote was called, and publicity won by 172 to 150. This issue had been tied the day before. Well, why didn't they stay on the job anyhow? And who is it that is calling them to account for not protecting the secret loans?

Somebody made a suggestion that Roosevelt make an airplane flight to Chicago. Louis McHenry Howe opposed it. So did Senator Dill. It was reported that they were afraid of the anti-Roosevelt packed gallery. But Roosevelt's hunch, however he got it, was good.

AND THAT IS THAT

It is reported that some cabinet officers didn't like it when the President perpetrated the 15 per cent salary cut on them. But the way it was announced was that it was unanimously requested. Now it is declared that they didn't know of it until the morning after the announcement was made. They got their information from the President by mail. And even at that, not a member of the cabinet dared mention it at their meeting that day. We are beginning to admire Hoover more and more. He has quietly resurrected Teddy's "big stick."

THOMAS BATA, THE EUROPEAN SHOE KING, KILLED

Sometime ago we called attention to the new competition the shoe industry of this country was meeting through the mass production of Thomas Bata of Czechoslovakia. Because of this mass production, and the efficiency of his workmen, Bata succeeded in making himself felt particularly in this country. With a few keen lieutenants, he came to Lynn, Mass., and learned thoroughly the American system of shoe-making. Then he returned to his own country, and in his native town of Zlin he began to build up that enormous industry which has long since crossed national boundaries, and competes successfully with native manufacturers in every country. When tariffs have been raised against his goods, he has taken his capital and builded factories in countries which tried to shut him out.

Thomas Bata was killed last week in an airplane accident in Switzerland whither he had gone for a business trip. He will be remembered, not only for his large scale production, but much more for the improvements he introduced in the care of his employees. Model homes in model villages, an assured job or support during periods of unemployment, the establishment of mutual confidence between employer and employee, all these made him the outstanding industrialist of Europe.

Just what will become of his organization now is a matter of great concern. Those who are nearest to the management, however, report that this great industrialist has wisely planned for just the contingency which has arisen, and that the business will go on without him as it did with him. Many of our great industrialists might well study the Bata system. It was a huge business success; and, much better, it was shot through and through with a human interest that made all engaged one industrial family.

From inside information, it is learned that more than one Republican Senator and many Congressmen are planning to conduct their campaigns without respect to the presidential contest. Heretofore, the program has been to sail in on the president's coat-tails. Maybe they will change their minds before November. It depends upon how business picks up.

PREMIER MUSSOLINI ASSUMES MORE OFFICES

Premier Mussolini of Italy has dismissed his minister of Foreign Affairs, Dino Grandi; has given a general shake-up to his cabinet; has ousted five ministers and many secretaries, and is taking four positions for himself, rather than the two that he has been filling.

Mussolini is now Premier, Minister of the Interior, Minister of Foreign Affairs and Minister of Corporations. The news dispatches do not tell us whether the Duce is receiving the salaries attached to all these positions, but we presume he does. And incidentally, we have no doubt that he earns them.

Whatever may be our opinion of his acts or his characteristics, humility is not one of his striking virtues. Nor is he extremely lethargic in his actions. Mussolini is one ruler who rules and he knows who is ruling. And the people do also.

BUSINESS OR NO BUSINESS

Word comes that a number of corporations, who, in common with the general run of people, are in favor of reducing government costs and saving taxes, are likely to announce that they have decided to liquidate unless they have assurance of relief from the tax burden. The implication of this, of course, is to call attention to how it would affect employment, and candidates for the legislature and Congress and other tax-fixing bodies will act accordingly. A few companies could liquidate, as they have cash assets sufficient. But whether or not these statements will be carried out, government expenses must be cut.

PERFECT UNDERSTANDING

It is reported that our government is supposed to have a little private understanding with Great Britain and France; that there will be no effort put forth to force the hand of our chief executive until after election. This, it is reported, was discussed quietly at Lausanne. Well, who could blame the President or his friends? It is an excellent precautionary measure, and President Hoover is learning politics. The payments are due on the 15th of next September. Can indecision upon this matter wait until then? Well, hardly.

Nevada County Reports

The Oakland Tribune

A sort of story which does not appear often in the news is that which comes from Nevada county where there is an increase in assessed valuations of $95,000. No arbitrary increase in this designed to prevent an elevation of tax rate, but one brought about by an actual gain of values even in this year which sees most valuations drop. The answer is the new interest in mining, the gain in enterprises of the kind in the county. Mining has been on the upgrade and the production of gold is larger and Nevada county, with its many properties, recognizes the benefits.

The Rainbow-Chasing Division!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

SAFE AND SANE

I like to read the thrilling tales
Of men who chase and capture whales,
And from the sport
Derive a sort
Of saturnine enjoyment.
But when I read such yarns as these
I like to loll at idle ease,
Extremely glad
I never had
So risky an employment.

I like to read of buried gold
The great Kidd hid in times of old,
And might be found
Still safe and sound
In many a cask and barrel.
But treasure hunts in tropic seas
Not only are devoid of ease,
But I don't care
To venture where
I'd be exposed to peril.

Adventure stories thrill my blood;
My heartbeats always thump and thud
When reading books
Concerning crooks
Who break all laws, unheeding
Of all the awful risks they run
When they go forth with knife and gun
To gain ill fame,
But just the same
I get my thrills while reading.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

When money talks in these soak-the-rich days, about all it says is "Ouch!"
Maybe that newly-discovered gold will repair the damage.
Gold is used very successfully in fixing cops.
Taxing the big fellows would be fun if you could twist a mule's tail without starting anything.
The five-day week will make more jobs. The coroner will need more assistants.
A free land is one where the people choose between two leaders who picked the delegates who picked them.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN ACQUAINTANCES AND FRIENDS. YOU DON'T ENVY THE SUCCESS OF ACQUAINTANCES.

Men will be idle so long as a dollar is tax-exempt when it's idle.

When a man is in love he respects convention. When a woman is in love, she scorns it.
You see, the rest of us must balance our budgets by spending less so the Government can do it while spending more.

AMERICANISM: Dismally confessing that mere laws can't end boozing; hopefully demanding some laws to end the depression.

Depressing prices in times like these indicates that stocks aren't the only thing the short is short of.
But if a candidate knows how to make us all rich, how come he doesn't collect a billion or so?
You can say one thing for war times. A man who deliberately injures his country isn't called a shrewd financier.

OF COURSE ADVERSITY IS A GOOD TEACHER. BEFORE THE DAY OF BRIDGE, FEW HUSBANDS KNEW HOW TO USE A CAN OPENER.

If you think wars will end when all nations are in one family, you don't know much about families.
You don't realize how gentle and compassionate the race has become until you see a bout between heavyweights.
The rich farmer becomes a merchant; the rich merchant becomes a banker; the rich banker buys a swell farm.
In a big town swell clothes mean he is prosperous; in a hick town, they mean he is a good pool shot.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

PRIMING THE PROSPERITY PUMP

Yesterday I suggested that the very blackness of our current economic situation is preliminary to an upturn in the business curve, and I gave two reasons for this belief.

1. Inventories of manufactured goods have, in the main, been approaching depletion, and further manufacturing will become increasingly imperative regardless of the hardness of the times.

2. When prices of property and goods get low enough cash being held out of circulation comes out of hiding because its owners realize that they may never again be able to get as much for their money.

I put much confidence in this second reason because it does not rest upon some political miracle man's shaking a magic formula out of his hat or upon any unprecedented altruism on the part of those who have the cash of the country in their socks or safety deposit boxes.

This next adventure in buying, which I think will prime the prosperity pump, will be prompted by sheer self-interest, but the growing conviction that this period of low prices is the best time to buy property and goods, that this is the time in which to get high value for low investment.

This next adventure in buying will not be based on a program of extensive borrowing and risk-taking, but will be carried out with accumulated cash backed by the convinced judgment of its owners that this is the period in which to invest it.

This next adventure in buying will not, therefore, depend upon having prices drastically below current income. If it had to depend upon such a situation, there would not be as valid ground for hope as I think there is for current income for millions upon millions of Americans has dropped faster than prices.

This next adventure in buying will not be inspired by the fact that prices are lower than in 1928 and 1929 so much as by the fact that the holders of the cash of the country become convinced that prices may rise in the future and to the extent they do rise cut off from the possible profit to be realized from investment at the present low level.

I do not say that factors as I am discussing this week will really meet the challenge of the depression. There is much fundamental reconsideration and reconstruction of basic economic policy we must face. I am speaking only of factors that will mark the swing back from drastic depression.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

HARD WORK

Grownup people have little or no idea of the hard work babies do. We take for granted tasks that cost them tremendous effort. They are born into the world with only the possibilities of motion, accurate adjustment and sustained effort. They must create their own power and if you want to refresh your memory in this matter all you have to do is to try a new movement which requires nicety of muscular and nervous control. Holding a golf club and making a stroke gives you a hint of it.

A little chap trying to get a spoonful of cereal into his mouth is straining every inch of his being. Because he has not developed the control necessary to this achievement his hand wobbles, the spoon twists, the cereal covers a wide area of his person, the tablecloth and region adjacent. To the grown-up looking on this is distressing. He cannot understand why the child is stupid enough to mistake his ear for his mouth. The child made no such mistake. He knew where his mouth was but couldn't arrive. His mind aimed correctly but the lines of communication and the control of them had not yet been established. That will require many efforts, all more or less painful. Be a little patient and instead of moaning over the mess cheer for the success ahead.

Don't expect a child to feed himself completely the first few times he tries. He gets tired after the first spoonful, weary after the next and completely done up after the third, or thereabouts. Give him the first spoonful yourself, then give him the spoon and let him take his turn. Help him this way for a few spoonfuls and then finish the job for him letting him understand he has done very well. As he grows in power he needs less help and you withdraw. If you follow this course he is going to learn to feed himself with fewer storms and tears and protests.

Dressing is a complicated matter for beginners. Again the fumbling fingers fail and fatigue sets in very early. Once a child gets overtired in attempting a job he looks upon it with distaste that becomes aversion after repeated experiences. It is right and necessary to induce a child to make an effort, but we must take care to adjust the effort so that, while it makes the child stretch his power and control, it remains well within the margin of his performance, the teacher has done well. If he scowls, cries, kicks or fights, the teacher has failed somehow, somewhere, to make the right adjustment of difficulty to power.

Think of these things when you stand by a fumbling child. The ordinary affairs of routine life have become matters of course to you. You talk, walk, eat, dress, do a thousand and one things without thought. An infant cannot do anything without thought and effort and consequent fatigue. Helping a child make the necessary adjustments to the ordinary routine is a matter requiring your nicest skill and best judgment.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him the first spoonful yourself, then give him the spoon and let him take his turn. Help him this way for a few addressed envelope for reply.)

CHATEAU-THIERRY FREED

On July 21, 1918, after one of the longest sieges of the war, French and American troops finally succeeded in driving the Germans from Chateau-Thierry and pushed across the Marne behind them to advance more than four miles.

On the Balkan front Franco-Italian forces advanced in Albania, and captured Point Izol, on the crest of Mali Silovez.

Another political blow to Austria came when the Von Seidler cabinet resigned. Baron von Husarek was appointed premier.
